BUTLER COUNTIANS FLOCK TO COURT TRIAL

WILL TAKES ISSUE WITH BRISBANE ON WALES AND PLANE

(Special To The News)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18. — The best informed man in America wrote me this today in a letter, so I get paid for it.

Mr. Brisbane says:

"Will, the prince obeyed orders in not taking a plane.

"The king is a link to the past, and must stick to the past. The acroplane is a link to the future. He still drives to Parliament in a carriage.

"Once the duty of every Britisher was to obey the king. Now it's the king's business to obey the prime minister who represents every Britisher and improvement."

I don't care how right you are, Arthur, and I don't care how careful Premier Baldwin was, I still claim he should have flew, or flown (whatever it is in English), and I bet the prince will tell you so, too.

Yours,

WILL.

Substitute school teachers are in great demand at the uresent time—in fact are in greater demand than the supply. Not only are teachers in the city schools largely affected by the illness epidemic but in the country schools as well. In some of the schools yesterday college girls home on their Christmas vacations were teaching as substitutes.

By the way, what has happened to the projected redistricting of the city for election purposes. Now is the time that this program should be carried out so that the redistricting can be completed and ready for the next election which will be an important city and county contest.

Ministers of the city for the most part have escaped the epidemic of grip that has been moving over the district during the past week or so, according to Rev. J. M. Petrie of the Ministerial association. Few ministers of the organization are ill he said.

Many business establishments are having decorated Christmas trees erected at their places of bunsiness this year. It is adding much to the spirit of Christmas about the city.

The fact that no employes of the city receiced a raise in salary yesterday shows that the city councilmen evidently believe that with the slow arrival of some of the taxes and the high cost of operating the corporation (which the city really is) it is not fitting time for raises.

Complete Jury In Wife Murder Case At Butler

Jury Contains Number Of Women—Jurors Can Read Deleted Papers

JONES' CONFESSION FIGURES IN CASE

Several Hundred Spectators Unable To Crowd Into Court Room Seats

(International News Service)

BUTLER, Pa., Dec. 18.—Upon completion of the jury in the murder trial of Earl Jones at noon today, Judge James M. Galbraith adjourned court until 9 a. m. Wednesday. Jones is accused of murdering his wife, Nellie Adams Jones, 33, on the night of October 19.

In an alleged confession obtained by state and county police, Jones admits the burning of the body of his wife in an abandoned farmhouse six miles southwest of Butler, but declares that she was killed accidentally in their home when they engaged in a scuffle over a revolver.

Jurors in Case

The jurors who will hear the case are: Mrs. Annie Bell, North Washington; Charles E. Keck, Butler; Mrs. William R. Turner, Butler; F. H. Gardner, Cherry township; Zenas McMichael, Zelienople; Wilber Moser, Oakland township; J. E. Miller, Cherry Valley; D. A. Rea, Washington township; Mrs. Elizabeth Sutter, Chicora; Mrs. W. E. Schramm, Butler; George W. Hazlett of Butler and O. B. McCandless of Center township.

In giving instructions to the jurors Judge James M. Galbreath stated that they would be permitted to read Butler and Pittsburgh papers after tipstaffs had deleted all references to the Jones case.

Crowd Disappointed

Another ruling of Judge Galbreath was that only persons who could be seated would be permitted to remain in the courtroom.

Under this rule several hundred persons were unable to secure admission to the courtroom. Attorney W. H. Martin has been employed by the members of Mrs. Jones' family to assist Attorney Miller at the trial. Attorneys for Jones are John H. Wilson and Albert C. Troutman.

Likeness Of Lincoln Found In Pine Knot By Instructor Here

W. J. Wilcox, instructor in woodwork at the Trade School of the New Castle public school system, on Monday while engaged in his work at the school, made what he terms is the greatest find of his seventeen years of experience in woodwork.

He picked up a piece of scrap Yellow Georgia Pine, in which there was a large knot and began sawing through it across the grain.

When he had completed this little job, he looked at one of the pieces and was astonished to observe in the outline of the knot as cut through, a perfect outline of the head of Abraham Lincoln, one of the greatest of American presidents.

So perfect is the likeness, that the piece of wood in which the kuot is located, has created a real sensation wherever shown by Mr. Wilcox.

Mr. Wilcox proposes finishing the piece of wood for the purpose of preserving it against wear and tear.

Mr. Wilcox, who resides at 1116 Cunningham avenue, has been an instructor in woodwork in the schools of the city for a number of years.

Poll Shows That Anti-War Treaty Will Likely Pass

Poll Of Senators Shows Kellogg's Peace Plan Proposal To Be Favored

"BIG NAVY" BILL HAS OPPOSITION

Fight For Adoption Of "Resolution Of Explanation" Appears To Be Doomed

By WILLIAM K. HUTCHINSON
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The Kellogg multilateral anti-war treaty will be ratified by the senate by an overwhelming vote, with or without a resolution of explanation, it was disclosed today by an International News Service poll.

The same poll however indicated that the "Big Navy" bill, intended to place the American Navy on a par with that of Great Britain, faces stiff opposition but probably will be enacted after a lengthy debate. The naval bill's greatest obstacle will be the political hazard created by ratification of the Kellogg treaty, under which about 55 nations pledge themselves to outlaw all war.

The fight of senate irreconciliables for adoption of a "resolution of explanation" in conjunction with ratification of the treaty appeared doomed to defeat. The preponderance of senatorial opinion seemed to be that American rights were amply protected in the treaty itself, as declared by President Coolidge, and that any public explanation might tend to embarrass and humiliate the Coolidge administration.

Democrats in Line

The action of Democratic leaders in supporting the treaty insured its ratification. While such minority party spokesmen as Senators Swan-

Bulletin Says King Improves

Slight Change In Condition Of King Is Reported By Doctors

KING IN BED FOR FOUR WEEKS

By HARRY R. FLORY
International News Service Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Dec. 18.—The upward movement in the condition of King George which was broken by a slight relapse late Monday, was progressing favorably but slowly this afternoon, it was stated by Buckingham Palace officials.

An official announcement at 3:30 said the improvement noted in the morning bulletin was continuing.

The king is still in a state of extreme exhaustion. He took to his bed just four weeks ago today.

In palace circles the downward fluctuation in the king's condition late yesterday was attributed to discontinuance of the use of sedatives. No sedatives have been administered in 48 hours. The physicians are trying hard to keep the king going without them.

The morning medical bulletin said the king was slightly improved.

Favorable Bulletin.

London, Dec. 18.—A more favorable bulletin on the condition of King George was issued by the royal physicians this morning.

"In spite of the king having passed a disturbed night, there is a slight improvement in both the general and local conditions," the bulletin stated.

It was signed by Sir Stanley Hewett, Sir Hugh Rigby and Lord Dawson, of Penn.

It was authoritatively stated that the cabinet will remain within call of Premier Stanley Baldwin over the Christmas holidays so that the various members can be called into consultation should an emergency arise.

Miss Thelma Roberts, a student of Dennison university at Granville, O., will arrive in this city the latter part of the week where she will spend the holiday season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Q. L. Roberts, of Park avenue.

FIRE DOES $250,000 DAMAGE AT SHARON

(International News Service)

SHARON, Pa., Dec. 18.—Fire which for a time threatened an entire block in the Sharon business district today did damage estimated at $250,000. The Curran Music store, one of the largest in the region, and the Hausman-Shaffer shoe store were destroyed.

The Sharon and Farrell fire companies responded to the alarms and succeeded in getting the blaze under control after merchants in nearby stores prepared to move their stock, fearing the flames would spread.

The building which housed the stores, a three-story frame structure, was owned by M. V. DeForest.

Paraguay Ready To Arbitrate For Settlement; Bolivia Cools Down

SEEK TO AVOID ALL APOLOGIES

Withdrawal Of Troops From Disputed Territory Will Lead To Conciliation

(International News Service)

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 18.—Bolivia has accepted the offer of the Pan American Conference on conciliation and arbitration to mediate the Bolivian-Paraguayan territorial controversy, said advices from La Paz today. Paraguay had already accepted the Pan American conference offer. Prospects for a peaceful settlement appeared bright today.

Tension Lessened

Washington, Dec. 18.—The tension which has existed in the Bolivian-Paraguayan crisis was further lessened today when Dr. Diez De Medina, Bolivian minister to the United States predicted that his government would accept the offer of the Pan American conference, sitting here, to mediate the boundary dispute between the two countries. The minister is still waiting formal word from La Paz, where the Bolivian congress is debating the proposal, but he said he was sure the decision would be favorable.

Paraguay already has agreed to accept the good offices of the conference.

Cease War Plans

Geneva, Dec. 18. Bolivia has ceased all military operations against Paraguay, the League of Nations was officially informed today.

Bolivia replied to the League council's second note of warning, dispatched on Sunday by French foreign minister Briand, saying:

"Our troops are forbidden to attack or advance. But, inasmuch as Paraguay began mobilization, we are taking precautions indispensable to our national security."

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The war clouds in South America appeared less menacing today.

Paraguay has accepted the good offices of the Pan-American conciliation conference, now in session here, in the attempted settlement of the Bolivian-Paraguayan conflict. Official word of Paraguay's desire for a peaceful termination of the conflict reached the state department last night.

Bolivia has yet to accept or reject the conference proposal, but there was a good deal of optimism apparent in Pan-American circles today that the Bolivian reply will not be unfavorable the Bolivian minister, Senor De Medina, merely reported that the Berries and needles and Christmas cheer, a seasonal trinity, and all of them spell good will on earth, the weather is thirty-three.

Jessica Brown Is Married Today To Vivian Cornelius

Former Lady Northesk Is Wedded In London To Young Wealthy Englishman

(International News Service)

LONDON, Dec. 18.—Lady Northesk, formerly Miss Jessica Brown of Buffalo, N. Y., a Ziegfeld Follies beauty, was married here today to Vivian Cornelius, a wealth young Englishman, and honorary attache to the British embassy in Brussels.

The ceremony, which was quiet took place in the Prince's row registry office. It was followed by a benedictory service in the Savoy chapel.

The bride was divorced from the Earl of Northesk by the Scottish courts at Edinburgh late in October and her engagement to Cornelius followed within a few days. Lady Northesk charged her husband with infidelity. At the time her divorce was granted the Earl was in New York. He did not defend the suit.

is hoped that the machine is taken care of. Of course automobiles used by the police go over all kinds of road but proper care in operating can be exercised.

Railroad trains out of town and arriving here are crowded with folks who intend to spend the holidays with parents. There is something about the holidays that attracts the feet of the son and daughter toward home. Those who have parents should be keen to appreciate it as there are many who would travel to the ends of the earth could they but visit their parents on Christmas day.

Plans are going ahead for the big dinner and vaudeville show to be given the newsboys and newsgirls of New Castle by the proprietors of the Leslie hotel. It will be the sixth annual affair. The hotel proprietors were newsboys and often were recipients of the same sort of dinner and show during their days in Pittsburgh. They have not forgotten and are to be commended for their efforts to lighten the burden of the boys and girls. Five hundred will be present.

Epidemic of minor illness that has struck the city and county is playing havoc with plans for the annual Christmas entertainments in the schools and churches. Many of the children cast for roles are ill and the rehearsals are being interferred with. In numerous instances the entertainments are being cancelled entirely.

Telephone girls at the local central have a lot of extra work as a result of the number of cases of illness about the city and county. Friends of the persons that are ill are calling by the scores to learn of their condition, all of which makes many more than ordinary number of calls.

Traffic was blocked in North Mill street yesterday afternoon when a driverless horse, pulling a wagon filled with junk travelled south. As automobiles tooted, the horse continued at its leisurely pace and didn't seem to mind it. The driver was no place in sight. Finally a pedestrian seized the bridle and led the horse to the curb and traffic flowed on.

Those few hardy souls who braved the winds and the rain Monday evening declare they could feel it getting colder minute by minute. And this morning it was colder—considerably colder. Perhaps now there will be fewer colds.

Pa Newc has found a man who thinks that cemeteries and tombstones make an interesting study. Personally Pa Newc thinks it would be a little too much of a dead subject like Latin firstance.

Despite the fact that the New Wilmington and West Middlesex road was never closed but a day or so, state highway detour maps are still listing it closed and also state that there is a seven mile detour over dirt road. Bernie Hanlon at the Motor club states that he has written several times about it but his letters seem to be futile. Many calls state the motor club manager have come into the local club concerning the road. By the way, it is open.

Speaking of Christmas tricks, reminds Pa Newc that down in Philadelphia last year a friend in the telephone hang out told Pa Newc that they received something like 10,000 calls last April fool day for the zoo. Calls were left at certain places and the misguided people called and asked for Mr. Wolf or Mr. Bair or some such animalistic moniker. The central girls got so they informed the callers that they were asking for the zoo so a lot of the so-called wit went to waste.

Pa. Newc ran across a man yesterday who though pale in the gills and shaky in limb refused to give up and go home. A dozen or so persons patronizingly told him that he looked sick and he refused to succumb to the suggestions. He really was sick however.

Young Pa Newc has a cold. Foolish statement number so and so because every one has. Yesterday he kept track of the suggested remedies on his beat and they totalled some 20 before the day was over. Every one has a different unfailable remedy.

POLL SHOWS THAT ANTI-WAR TREATY WILL LIKELY PASS

son (D) of Va., and Walsh (D) of Mont., ridiculed the compact as "worthless," both announced they would vote for its ratification. This action destroyed all chance for rejection of the treaty.

The "irreconcilables" meanwhile concentrated their efforts on securing approval of their "resolution of explanation" by the senate foreign relations committee. Senators Moses (R) of N. H., and Deed (D) of Mo., sponsored the resolution and led the fight in committee.

There were indications this morning that the committee would report the treaty favorably during the day and the resolution "without recommendation." This would merely transfer the fight over the resolution to the floor of the senate.

Naval Bill Fought

The fight on the "Big Navy" bill, which would authorize the building of fifteen new cruisers and an aircraft carrier, came from a different source. The so-called "pacifists", of the senate, aided by senators who advocate aircraft and submarine construction instead of battleships, planned to block a vote on the naval measure until after the treaty is ratified. This program, they believed would increase the opposition to heavy naval expenditures.

The naval bill remained first on the senate's future program. It will be considered as soon as the senate acts upon the pending Hawes Anti-Convict labor bill and administration leaders were hopeful of passing that bill before nightfall.

SOUTH AMERICAN WAR CLOUDS ARE LESS MENACING

May Conciliate

It was considered possible that the solution might lie in conciliation of the immediate cause of the present situation—the frontier clashes between Bolivian and Paraguayan troops—here in Washington by the Pan-American conference, leaving the boundary dispute to be handled by the Bolivian-Paraguayan commission which has been meeting under the auspices of Argentina in Buenos Aires intermittently for two years.

There was no meeting of the special mediation committee scheduled for today, and Victor M. Maurtua, of Peru, its chairman, who has been confined to his hotel with a cold, said he did not know when one would be called.

When the time appears ripe to make a suggestion to the belligerents, it is believed here that withdrawal of Bolivian and Paraguayan troops to their former positions, held before the attack on Fort Vanguardia December 6, will be exacted if and when arbitration begins. In that way, it was pointed out in diplomatic circles, apologies on both sides would be avoided.

Each Blames Other

Each has exacted its blood for the acts of aggression each now blames the other for committing.

Consequently, it is pointed out, neither country's national honor or dignity would be hurt by a mutual withdrawal while the underlying dispute over the Chaco Boreal, of fifty years standing, is being settled in Buenos Aires.

Both Secretary of State Kellogg and Charles E. Hughes, the two American delegates to the Pan-American conference profess optimism, but they decline to discuss the matter publicly. The state department continues to keep hands off while the conference is attempting to intervene. What the United States might do if and when all other means fail, is problematical.

In some quarters it was believed the United States might remain out of the picture except through Hughes being one of the five members of the special mediation committee. There is no question but that the American government would find it embarrassing to enter direct negotiations or to use pressure against either one or both of the belligerents because of the position this country occupies with regard to South America.

Up to the present, as far as known, there have been no exchanges except of an informal nature, between state department officials and the South American delegates to the conference.

The penalty under the Baumes laws for second degree murder is from 20 years to life with no time off for good behavior or other causes.

Machine Injuries Are Fatal To Man

Washington, Pa., Man Dies After Lingering With Bruises, Hit By Auto

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., Dec. 18.—Thomas Varley, 67, of Washington, died here today of injuries sustained December 5 when he was struck by a car alleged to have been driven by Walter Porter, 23, of Washington.

Porter is held in jail here on charges of failure to stop and render assistance after an accident, while the purported owner of the car, Daniel F. Clay, district manager of the Merchants Creamery Co., of Morgantown, W. Va., is under $2,000 bail in the case and also faces a $50,000 damage suit filed in behalf of Varley.

Both Varley's legs were broken, and when it was seen that death was imminent, the trial of Porter, which was originally set for Saturday, was continued. No new trial date has been set, pending an inquest.

We all have our ups and downs bit it is much better to be on the level.

Home Of Chicago Official Bombed

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 18.—A black powder bomb today damaged the home of Lawrence F. King, senior member of the sanitary district board. The front porch of the King home was blown away and windows within a radius of several blocks were shattered by the blast.

King and his five children, four of whom are girls, were in bed at the time. All escaped injury.

The sanitary district trustee blamed "politics" for the attack on his home.

The man who has never been married has no excuse for being a pessimist.

DR. KANE SPEAKER AT CLUB MEETING

Dr. Joseph F. Kane of the Gorgas Memorial hospital, Washington, D. C., addressed members of the Woman's club Monday afternoon in the Highland U. P. church on "Periodic Health Examinations' which proved to be one of the most interesting and appreciated lectures of the year.

Dr. Kane told how the Gorgas Memorial Institute had been organized to commemorate the work of William Gordon Gorgas in making possible the construction of the Panama canal and his later effort in raising the standard of health in the United States. He declared that Dr. G. Gorgas' superhuman efforts in ridding the canal zone of the mosquito which carries the germ of yellow fever had made this canal a triumph of medical science.

Medical science has accomplished much in recent years he said in conquering "mass diseases." Epidemics of typhoid fever, yellow fever, diphtheria, smallpox, cholera, etc., are now practically unknown. Mankind is dying of its individual diseases. Many of these may be controlled in their beginning. But worn out tissues and organs cannot be replaced. Hence the necessity of keeping fit through periodic examinations and early treatment.

Much has been done in destroying the power of infantile diseases and thereby the average life has been raised to 58 years. If the aim of 65 years is to be reached it must be through the conservation of the health of the middle aged. This can only to be done through preventive measures.

Dr. Kane spoke of toxin-anti-toxin and anti toxin as among the gifts of God to men. That with the one to prevent and the other to cure it is not necessary for people to die of diphtheria.

The cause of influenza has so far baffled scientific research. Heart diseases have increased 20 per cent since 1910 Dr. Kane declared. This is generally attributed to the tremendous strain of living today. Worry makes tense. Tension destroys vital forces.

Knowledge of how to care for the body through proper food, exercise, etc., is easily available to all. The doctor should be consulted for periodical examination though one feels in perfect health.

The department of Applied Education will be in charge of the program on Jauary 7 when Colonel Edward Bullis will speak on the "Romance of the Calendar."

The Woman's club is indebted to Dr. Mary Baker for the privilege of hearing Dr. Kane.

REMOVING THE INCENTIVE

A STEP calculated to remedy the recognized evil of "expert testimony" will have been taken, if the legislature enacts into law the recommendations of New Jersey legal experts. A suggested bill provides that expert witnesses shall be appointed by the court, which shall set the compensation and that it shall be contempt of court for any such witness to accept remuneration except that fixed by the court.

There is a general feeling that some such practice as this must be made universal in order to check present conditions. Few big cases are tried without the aid of expert witnesses. The only essential is that the litigants shall be financially able to pay for their services. The public has on several occasions been treated to spectacles in which all of the expert witnesses on one side disagreed directly with those retained by the opposing side, even when they started from the same premises toward their conclusions.

There is, of course, always the possibility of honest disagreement. It is hard apparently for professional men to see eye to eye. The more knowledge of a subject some men possess the more likely it is that they will reach independent ground. This cannot always be the case, however. Scientists should meet on occasions on common ground, but they never appear to do so in the capacity of expert witnesses in court. Present conditions have led to the conclusion that expert testimony is a business without the high ethics and scruples of other modern business. Reforms which will remove that impression ought to be welcomed.

COMMEMORATION OF FIRST AIRPLANE FLIGHT

ASSEMBLY of world leaders in aviation and delegates from fifty nations who came to this country for the International Aeronautics Conference on Monday commemorated at Kill Devil Hill, near Kitty Hawk, North Carolina, the twenty-fifth anniversary of man's first self-contained and self-controlled mechanical airplane flight. The place where success crowned the dreams and efforts of human beings during uncountable centuries is surely one of the great shrines of human progress on this earth; it is a bleak, dreary waste of sand dunes overlooking the neighboring ocean, covered with weedy brush and clumps of starved grass, a favorite haunt for the sea birds and of the men who aspired to follow them into the air.

Twenty-five years ago the Wright brothers had wrought their glider into a motor-propelled airplane. On December 14 it had "flown" for three and one-half seconds with Wilbur Wright as pilot, but had slumped down on one wing and been damaged. By the afternoon of December 16 repairs were completed and next morning dawned a brisk cold wind from the north which put an icy rim on puddles of water. The brothers decided to make another effort at flight. Coast guards from the nearby Kill Devil Life-saving Station assisted in dragging and setting the plane on a runway on the hillside. Orville made the first flight. It lasted twelve seconds. Wilbur flew next for thirteen seconds. Then Orville flew for fifteen seconds a distance of 200 feet against the wind. Finally, Wilbur flew 852 feet in fifty-nine seconds and landed with a crash which caused minor damages. The wind caught the plane, turned it over and over, and so badly wrecked it that the experiments came to an end for that year.

"With all the knowledge and skill acquired in thousands of flights I would hardly think today of making my first flight in a strange machine in a twenty-seven-mile wind even if I knew that the machine had already been flown and was safe," said Orville Wright in his memoirs. "After these years of experience I look with amazement upon our audacity in attempting flights with a new and untried machine under such circumstances. Yet faith in our calculations and the design of the first machine, based upon our tables of air pressures secured by months of careful laboratory work, and confidence in our system of control developed by three years of actual experience in balancing gliders in the air, had convinced us that the machine was capable of lifting and maintaining itself in the air and that, with a little practice, it could be safely flown."

Such were the men whom a scoffing world called crack-brained visionaries twenty-five years ago and who persisted with the aid and encouragement of their sister, Katherine, until success was achieved. Wilbur Wright is dead, the victim of an airplane accident. Orville survives and was the center of the ceremonies Monday at Kitty Hawk. The world does well to honor him and the era which he and his brother brought into being.

"Knickerbockers" is singular! they look that way.

The less of it they have, the more people seem obsessed with the inclination to speak their mind.

Almost every great military invention bears the name of its inventor except the flat top desk.

What the average man wishes to know is which side in China is making the world safe for democracy.

Few men resemble the young fellows who wear the ready-made clothes in the magazine advertisements. Few wish to.

One reason why it is ungallant to refer to the earth as "she" is because scientists estimate it to be from one to 10 billion years old.

Now that the saw has won recognition as a musical instrument, it seems like an opportune time to settle the status of the saxophone.

The Sea Islands.
Long Staple Cotton.
The "Bloody Marsh."
Georgia's Beautiful Coast.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1928, by N. Y. American, Inc.)

ST. SIMONS ISLAND, Ga., Dec. 17.—This is one of the beautiful sea islands lying close to Georgia's coast, near Brunswick, forming an inland waterway along the Atlantic.

Here grew originally the "Sea Island cotton" with long staple, known over the world. It grows now in far away Arizona, and across the ocean in the Nile valley. You have it in your rubber tires.

On this island, Oglethorpe fought the battle of "Bloody Marsh" that settled for all time the Spanish claims to these lands.

Spaniards landed from their ships which had just defeated the British, and marched inland. Oglethorpe met them and defeated them.

Local tradition says the Spanish troops came from their boats without shoes. Oglethorpe spread branches of prickly pear allover the Bloody Marsh. Anyhow, he won.

His fortification, Fort Oglethorpe, still stands in ruins at the water's edge in the little hamlet of Frederica. Its walls of oyster shell masonry several feet thick defy time and stand with the old rusty cannon on top. The walls were built in 1736.

Close by, is the church built by John Wesley, who came from England to carry out his religious ideas and, although he didn't know it at the time, to establish the Methodist Church, with one possible exception the most powerful in the United States.

At the end of two long rows of live oaks, about three hundred years old, you see ruins of the residence of Col. King, where Aaron Burr went into retirement after killing Alexander Hamilton.

Slave quarters and the old house, in ruins, are also of oyster shell masonry.

Natives tell you they know the live oaks are three hundred years old because "it takes them 100 years to grow, their prime lasts 100 years, then it takes them 100 years to die."

Oyster shells are still abundant. Men don't go to the market for oysters here. They go to the edge of the water with a hammer and knock off as many as they want.

This old island comes to life in a modern way, thanks to Detroit and Howard Coffin. He made his millions in Hudson and Essex automobiles and instead of taking his money to Europe as some do, he decided to go on building. He joined Carl Fisher in building up Montauk Point, the far end of Long Island, with golf links, polo fields, airplane landing fields and a fine big hotel.

He has just finished building another fine hotel, more golf links, airplane fields, polo fields, etc., on this island.

Georgia is much obliged to him for this proof that he appreciates as fine a coast resort as there is in the world.

The good Lord gives to human beings the beautiful earth.

It takes individuals with energy to make it available for the big crowd. As Flagler developed Florida, Carl Fisher developed Miami, the Prince of Monaco developed Monte Carlo, and as Mr. Coffin is developing this part of the wonderful coast of Georgia.

Here it is just warm enough and just cool enough in winter, never uncomfortably cold, never oppressively hot. And there are all kinds of things to be killed, if you happen to be a sportsman."

Twenty miles down the coast on the mainland quickly reached in a speed boat, Mr. Coffin has a game preserve of 60,000 acres. If you start at three in the morning and wait until sunrise you will get half a dozen wild turkeys. There are plenty of deer, wild cats, opossums, coons, quail, pheasants and other game.

Mr. Coffin doesn't shoot. He is too busy thinking about something else to build.

In the ocean off the islands fish are abundant, including swordfish that fight hard and must be harpooned from a "pulpit" built out over the bow of the boat.

At low tide this beach, hard enough for automobile racing, presents a perfect airplane landing field three hundred feet wide, five miles long; and

New Castle, Pa.
News Office.
Mr. Hints and Dints Man.
Dec. 16, 1928.

Dear Sir:—

In Monday's issue of December 3 you had a piece about men who had "hell cats for wives." You sure hit me all right, but why did you put it in five different places in the paper? I am going to ask you to please publish that piece again and keep it all in the same colyum. Maybe it might help some of us poor devils if our "hell cats" should happen to read it all in one piece. Now I will not sign my name to this letter for you would be too surprised Fred to know who wrote it. Maybe some day I will let you know from one who has a "hell cat" for a wife and is putting up with it on account of three grown up children.

Now you can do what you want with this letter throw it in the waste basket or put it in the paper if you want to. But what ever you do please publish that piece again all in the same colyum.

A NORTH HILL MAN.

Here is the spasm as it should have appeared. Maybe the makeup man had trouble at home. We didn't have any that morning:

Chivalry and Custom Give The Hell-Cats Freedom to Snarl.

This is written for afflicted husbands. If that doesn't mean you, don't read it.

If you have a hell-cat wife who speaks to you sweetly in public and thus fools the neighbors and yet in private talks to you as though you were a yellow dog with the mange and makes your home life much like the place where Dante saw the wolf, there are two things you can do.

First: You can take advantage of your superior strength and haul off and knock her silly. In that case she will do one of several things. She will stick a knife in you or quit you and go home to mother, of tell the neighbors and make them think you a brute or she will mend her ways and make a decent wife. This method is dangerous and few men dare attempt it.

Second: You can swallow your pride, accept your fate as punishment for your sins, hope the neighbors won't find out what kind of hell you live in and wait patiently for death while keeping up a pretense of happiness to fool the public and preserve part of your self respect.

This second method is prompted by chivalry and discretion and is the usual one employed. I have heard of a few hardy souls who resorted to violence but in every case they were condemned by the public and their wives got all the sympathy. As a matter of fact I agree with the public except in one instance for the wives seemed harmless little creatures incapable of cruelty.

They are beaten men, without ambition or hope, grimly making the best of things and doing their "duty" as they see it. They are hooked, and in a state where divorce is impossible they are doomed for life.

If law and public opinion made divorce easy I'll wager another month would find at least a dozen local hellcats wishing they hadn't abused a good thing.

But I know a number of wives as yet unbeaten—perhaps unbeatable except with a club—who treat their husbands much as a cat treats a wounded mouse. The strange part of it is, they actually love their men—love them passionately and jealously—and would fight for them tooth and nail. Yet they are almost pathologically cruel. They scold and berate from dawn to dark. They snarl and gibe and insult and torment. Their husbands live in constant terror of saying or doing the wrong thing and bringing whirlwinds of wrath about their heads.

Football sure does advertise New Castle.

And by the way it's not a bad idea to live your life so that if you ever have to, you will have a right to go to the poorhouse without being obligated to any one. This may be a little deep at first but it's good argument at that.

Usually you can tell, just by looking at a couple, that they would like to call their dumb maid a butler.

The fellow who can show others how to do things generally gets along all right becouse he is the boss. Of course that bunch of wise crackers who can not do anything but tell others how things should be done are most always just loafers and nothing else.

Clothes sure make a big difference. And by the way a good wash also makes a difference in humans.

Butler county now has a woman sheriff. She is filling out the unexpired term of her husband who died. That's all right.

There are the Christmas sneezes all right.

We never did believe in using automobile license tags only for the year they are issued for. Using next year's tags now does not mean anything. Of course in case of a new car that's different. A great many do not get the right tags when they should have 'em.

The governor of Michigan says that law which provides for life imprisonment for those convicted of four felonies should not embace vilations of the prohibition law. He evidently thinks violating the prohibition law is just disorderly conduct.

It's a wonder some bandits don't try to hold up Santy Claus. Some would if they could.

The supreme court of Florida has just ruled that it's law providing for life imprisonment for those convicted of a felony four times is constitutional. If they apply this on real estate dealers they will have to build more bull pens in that state.

That desire to kick the pants of foolish and joyous youth isn't inspired by superiority, but by envy.

If the state can break the commandment and kill without doing wrong, why can't it break the other nine?

John D. Rockefeller one of the richest men in the world, creates a lot of publicity every now and then by giving some one a new dime. Maybe it's because the dime is new that there is excitement.

The cave man had weaknesses, but no sissy inspired in the jungle beasts a fear that lasts until our day.

At Monongahela, Pa., after about all the people there had the flu the fire department got out and washed the streets to swim away the germs and that is not a bad idea.

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

OLD BACHELORS

I'm sorry for the man indeed
Who has but solemn books to read,
And only solemn folks about,
When he comes in or journeys out.
It must be such a lonely life
To have no children and no wife.
A strange existence it must be
Never to trim a Christmas tree.

A bachelor may lie in bed
And never hear the stealthy tread
Of little children in the hall
Coming to pay a morning call.
On Christmas morning with a shout
No youngsters race to turn him out,
And notify with horn and drum
That night has gone and morning come.

They say that bachelors are free
To suit their whims whate'er they be.
They're free to go and free to stay.
And there is none to cry them "nay!"
But what about such freedom, when
The Christmas time rolls 'round again?
Who wants a bed where no tots leap?
On Christmas day who wants to sleep?

If that be freedom, bind me fast
And keep me prisoner to the last.
To solemn books some time I'll give
But not the whole time I must live.
I want to hear the children shout,
I want to see them race about,
I want a place on Christmas Day
Where joyous children romp in play.

Report Of Immigration Leaks Subject Of Differing Opinions

General Feeling Is That Border Problem Must Be Dealt With In Fashion Friendly To Canada And Mexico

The ease with which the borders of the United States may be passed by persons from Mexico and Canada is brought to public attention by the report of Secretary Davis of department of labor, who proposes that some means be provided for strengthening the immigration law to stop border "leaks".

That Mr. Davis "is needlessly alarmed" by a court decision on Canadian commuters is the conviction of the CHICAGO DAILY NEWS, which declares that his "apprehensions are rather gratuitous", and offers the assurance: "Canada itself has adopted a markedly restrictive immigration policy and is not likely to admit armies of offensive aliens in order to spite the United States. In the second place commuters have to live within very short distances of the American border to be able to work in the United States and maintain residences in Canada. In the third place, American employers are amenable to public sentiment as well as to trade-union sentiment, so that thousands of good jobs probably will not be taken away from American residents and given to Canadian commuters. Congress should not permit itself to be stampeded by imaginary perils into unfriendly action toward Canada."

Quite a different view is taken by some other observers. Of the court rulings which provide that residents of Canada or Mexico "may come into the United States without regard for the quota provision" the UTICA OBSERVER-DISPATCH says: "The catch in this decision is that foreign-born residents of Canada or Mexico may enter the country. In other words, the courts point out to all persons desiring to immigrate to the United States that if they first establish their residence in Canada or Mexico, the quota will not keep them out. * * * Tightening up the immigration bars to make the law do what it was intended to do is of far more importance to the welfare of the country than 'farm relief', tariff revision, reapportionment and a dozen other problems before congress."

"A knotty problem," is recognized by the LANSING STATE JOURNAL, which thinks that the handling of the Mexican quota will be a particularly delicate task. From a similar point of view, the NEW ORLEANS TIMES-PICAYUNE advises: "The problem of a too-large Mexican immigration may solve itself as conditions within that neighbor country improve. It should in any case be solved in a way that would not give offense or just cause of complaint to the other countries of the Western Hemisphere."

"Any action," in the opinion of the NEW YORK EVENING POST, "should be confined to stopping the loopholes that might admit a flood of aliens. The original purpose of the quota law, which has worked so well, must be preserved."

Quick action is held imperative by the SAN BERNARDINO SUN, with the contention that "Unless there is immediately, strengthening of the immigration laws, big holes are to be driven through the quota provisions. Several technicalities in addition to the Canadian situation have developed and several hundred court actions are pending."

"The administration, through Secretary Davis," states the NEW ORLEANS ITEM, "proposes legislation to limit Mexican entries to 7,000 a year. Mexican immigration now reaches about 80,000. The proposal is logical enough if the general immigration policy is to be assumed. For there is no special reason—unless proximity be a reason—why quota preferences should be allowed to Mexico as against Spain or Italy. The proposal will be approved by organized labor and by others favoring the most rigid exclusion. It will be opposed by some industrial and agricultural interests which contend that the country needs more labor."

"If the quota is to be applied to Mexico and all South American countries," says the WACO NEWS-TRIBUNE, "then why not apply it to the Canadian provinces? Canada and South American republics are the best customers of the United States. They do their buying in the United States. They are not war-ridden lands. They are neighbors of Uncle Sam."

It is taken for granted by the CINCINNATI TIMES-STAR, "that any action congress may take on immigration in the near future will be in the direction of strengthening, not of weakening the law." "The secretary of labor," continues that paper, "wants the quota system extended to the countries of our hemisphere. In this, he will undoubtedly have the support of majorities in both houses. Obviously it is ridiculous to limit European immigration while allowing unlimited immigration from Mexico and the West Indies. There is less reason for a Canadian quota. There are, however, several arguments for a Canadian quota. For one thing, the United States should not be put in a position of discriminating against Latin America. For another thing, there is always the danger that Canada will be used as a mere stopping place for immigrants desirous of getting into the United States through a side door."

The FORT WAYNE NEWS SENTINEL declares that "Secretary Davis properly warns that unlimited immigration from any source is an evil which must command our immediate attention if we are to preserve our present high wages and standards of living."

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

THE GREAT OPEN SPACES.

Circling the range of mountains which the visitor to Southern California may liken to a theatrical back drop, there may be found some extraordinary people. Among them all a man and a woman who were married when they graduated from the university. Both came from old pioneer families. So they picked up their heritage of unrest and went out into the desert to live—to the utter dismay of their jazz-hound Hollywood friends.

They live on a big pear ranch on the north slope of the mountains that stand back of Los Angeles.

The view from their front porch makes little tight feelings around your heart and queer choky sensations in your throat. There are just no words in the dictionary to tell about these colors—where the violet haze filters down over buttes that stand vivid salmon pink in the sunset—and the clouds through bands of umber and dun across the long vacant stretches of desert—with great pools of shadow that seem like pools of old wine.

These two have all the latest books and high-brow magazines, and the radio. But they don't have the crash and rattle of the city.

The woman says she has given up having a servant because she would rather be alone with her baby and the old sheep dog during the hours of her husband's absence.

She will make one think of a man traveling on a California-bound train. He was a New York lawyer who had been living in retirement in the Arizona mountains on a ranch. He was in a towering rage because somebody else had moved into the neighborhood to disturb his solitude.

"How near is he?" his companion asked, having the dim impression that their clothes lines were probably all tangled up.

"Twenty miles away," he said. "Why the hell couldn't he have found a place of his own without coming all over me?"

The woman pioneer says that when the new road comes in through the Big Tujunga, connecting Los Angeles with the Antelope Valley, they will probably sell their place and move out farther—following the border country.

I think of her in her attractive little ranch home, with the postman bringing new books to the door and the Atlantic Monthly on the study table, and the picture of the pioneer woman known in the old days is conjured,—drab, stooped and faded; but the hunger for beauty and for the blessed solitude that erases these pesky insects called people from the line of vision was the same in both people.

A story is told of the projectionist whose ears were so well attuned to static and undestrable noises that he was a victim of his own adaptability. A queer, crackling noise floated through the porthole one performance and he began a close examination of everything about him that might have caused it. Almost frantic lest the manager and audience should grumble he spent a half hour going over his equipment. He sent his assistant into the auditorium for possible clues and the messenger came back shortly saying:

Big Demand For Nurses

Present Illness Epidemic Results In Unusual Call For Nurses

While the general public is cognizant of the fact that there are an unusually large number of people sick at the present time with the influenza and grip, yet those who actually know to what extent this epidemic of these diseases has effected the general conditions are more limited in numbers.

One of the indications of the widespread sickness now prevalent in the community is the scarcity of graduate nurses to meet the demands of those in need of the services of a nurse.

For the past several years the number of graduate nurses has been very materially increased in this city by graduation from the Shenango Valley and New Castle hospitals and there were those who thought that there might be an over supply.

At the present time it is practically impossible to secure a nurse for sudden emergency cases. In most instances it takes hours of telephoning and hunting about the city to secure a nurse who is not busy or sick. In many instances several hours work along these lines has failed to secure the necessary nurse.

Not only are all the nurses who are following the profession actively busy at the present time but many former nurses married and not active in the nursing work for some time have answered the pressing calls for assistance and are now engaged in nursing also.

Cancer Experiments Give Vienna Doctor New Hope For Cure

By O. D. TOLISCHUS
International News Service Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Dec. 18. — Experiments which it is hoped will at last produce the longed-for cancer cure are being made in Vienna by Professor Gustav Klein, head of the Plant Physiological Institute of the Vienna University.

The experiments are being financed by the I. G. Farbenindustrie, and this is taken as evidence that Professor Klein has really found a clew to this scourge of mankind.

Professor Klein claims to have succeeded where many other researchers have failed: he produces what he believes are cancer bacteria cultures.

He has hopes to have found the healing serum by next spring. His experiment, however, have produced entirely contrary results to the experiments of many other noted researchers who believe that there is no cancer bacteria, but that cancer is due to self-poisoning of the body.

Gorgas Institute Work Discussed

Dr. Joseph P. Kane Speaks To Lions And Senior High Today

BODY SHOULD BE EXAMINED YEARLY

What the Gorgas Memorial institute is and what it is doing for the United States was explained today by Dr. Joseph P. Kane, who addressed the chapel services of the senior high school this morning, and who spoke to the members of the New Castle Lions club at noon.

"The Gorgas Memorial institute," Mr. Kane declared, "a national health organization honoring the memory of the late General Gorgas, who conquered and made possible the building of the Panama canal, is founded to propagate better health by means of prevention rather than by cure.

"As a part of its work in carrying out the Gorgas ideas of better health, a part of our campaign is urging people to seek an annual health examination by their family physician. By this physical examination, repeated annually, serious diseases of the heart, kidneys, blood vessels may be detected at the beginning, or before much damage is done. At present the doctor usually views these diseases for the first time when they are beyond cure.

"Public health organizations and welfare associations have done work of great value in preserving the lives of infants and children. The infectious fevers are under better control than ever before. The result is that childhood, which once had a heavy death rate, has become much less hazardous for little ones to pass thru. But the diseases of middle age which cannot be helped by governmental agencies, since they are not harmful to anyone but the individual, are causing deaths at the summit of useful lives, and they are largely preventable. The annual physical examination is the only means by which these degenerative diseases may be detected early. The patient himself is unconscious of any signs of ill health until the trouble is far advanced.

"The Gorgas Memorial hopes by awakening the people to the terrible wastefulness of preventable diseases and the loss by premature deaths, seriously to have them consider this vital problem and the means they have at hand to cut it down to a minimum.

"The present life expectancy in the United States is 58 years," concluded Dr. Kane. "By careful attention to a yearly health inventory we should achieve a life expectancy of 65 years that is our goal."

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Dr. Kane spoke to the West Side Parents-Teachers association, and at 6 this evening he will address the members of the Quota club. Monday noon Dr. Kane spoke to the Rotarians and later in the day addressed the Woman's club.

Executive Mansion Gets No Attention

Will Have Received Little Notice By Time Legislature Convenes

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18—Despite the importance which many people attach to the subject, the proposal for a new executive mansion will have made but little progress when the legislature meets here.

A commission consisting of state treasurer Samuel S. Lewis, auditor general Edward Martin and Benson E. Taylor, secretary of property and supplies, was appointed to study the subject under authorization of a bill passed by the last session of the legislature. The report of the commission is expected to be one of a number which will show but little progress.

Although a number of recent governors have left the executive mansion at the end of their terms deploring the lack of a modern structure, governor Fisher considered a number of other projects much more necessary. Early in his term he asserted there is no scarcity of those willing to live in the executive mansion regardless of its condition and he has not indicated any change in his attitude since that time.

The commission appointed to study the subject held several informal meetings, but did little that was definite. They decided that one thing necessary was an adequate office where it would be possible for the governor to do much of his work undisturbed.

In the present executive mansion there is no adequate office facilities. Although governor Fisher is not above what he calls "pecking out a few letters" late at night on his own typewriter at the mansion, the majority of his work must be done at the capitol where all the records are kept.

A new executive mansion is one of the subjects which it is expected the legislature will consider seriously.

Exceed Appropriation For Prisoners Keep

When the budget for 1928 was made $1,000 was allotted for the reward and keep of prisoners. During the first 11 months of the year $1,249.50, has been used. When the appropriation was made for 1928, the sum of $1,000 was again appropriated. It was intimated that it would not cost that much this year and rather than send prisoners to the county jail for the taxpayers to pay for it is probable that the mayor will find some other way of disposing of the cases. Some mayors previously had adopted the "Work out your fine" plan.

PETER'S ADVENTURES in ANIMAL LAND

BY MRS. FLORENCE SMITH VINCENT

A HOMESICK HOUSEHOLD

Turtle Dove looked about him and sighed deeply and his little wife did exactly as her husband did.

"I think we should be very happy here if we were not so lonely," murmured he, in answer to Peter's question. "It is all very well to scold about having to live in such crowded quarters, but when it comes right down to it it is more fun than living away from one's kin altogether.

"To be sure, there are any number of birds about, but not one Turtle Dove have we met. It serves us right, I dare say the folks would declare. They coaxed us to join a party and take a fly to England when they found we were discontented, but we would not even do that. We let ten of our friends go off without us. We chose our own course and all by ourselves we sailed to this shore."

"Have you ever been lonely, boy?" asked Mrs. Dove, suddenly.

Peter nodded.

"Indeed I have," said he. "I have always lived with my father and mother in a farmhouse 'way off from all other houses and I have never had any boys and girls to play with. I know exactly how you feel."

"Oh, I hope not," declared Mrs. Dove. "It is not a nice feeling at all. In spite of all the crowd and noise, if I could, I would wish myself back in our really truly home this very minute. My feathers just curl up when I think of it."

"Now, now, now, my dear! Don't you go and get all worried up over it," said her husband, soothingly.

"WE SHOULD BE HAPPY IF WE WERE NOT SO LONELY"

"When we really make up our minds to start there is nothing to stop us, you know."

"But we couldn't go and leave the children, my dear," cried the mother.

"Of course not. Who said we could?" cried her mate. "But it will not be long now before they will be old enough to fly over with us Turtle Dove's wings are strong, you know," he continued, turning to the boy.

"Even the youngsters can fly for great distances; a good thing, too, when you come to think of it. We like to travel so well, what would we do without strong fliers!"

"Where are your children, by the way?" asked the boy. "You know I really came over to see them."

"We are sorry, but it looks as if you were going to be disappointed," said their mother. "They must be continually trying their strength, as youngsters will, and this morning they went for a fly and told us not to worry, that they did not know when they would be back. And we are not the least bit anxious, for we are sure that they are well able to take care of themselves."

Senior High Library Circulation Grows

According to Miss Suzanne Young, senior high school librarian, the present circulation in the library there averages between 125 and 150 books every day. The greatest volume of books are used for reference work in connection with some study, she declares.

During the month of November the circulation of books increased somewhat over the present number. However during the few weeks in December this increase has fallen off and now approximately 140 books are distributed to the students each school day. The circulation now stands at normal, due to the absence of students because of sickness.

Whiskey To Combat 'Flu Is Sought By Thousands

Government Appealed To In Epidemic Spread; Whiskey Asserted Remedy

Secretary Lowman Says That Nothing Can Be Done To Place Liquor On Market

By ROBERT S. THORNBURGH
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—The far-flung proportions of the 'flu" epidemic has already resulted in numerous appeals to the government to make available a supply of good whisky at cheap prices in order to combat it.

Whisky is considered by most medical authorities to be the best deterrent, as well as remedy for "flu", and the fact that the government is the possessor of the only pure whisky stock in the country has turned the eyes of many sufferers toward Washington.

Letters are reaching the White House and the Treasury Department proposing modification of the regulations pertaining to liquor distribution.

Can Do Nothing

Assistant Secretary Seymour Lowman, in charge of prohibition enforcement, admitted that there is nothing that can be done by the Treasury, since the law provides for the distribution of medicinal liquors.

The government at all times has a considerable quantity of confiscated whisky on hand, captured by the coast guard in its enforcement of the smuggling laws and by the prohibition bureau. It is held, as a rule, until disposed of by federal court order. With the exception of foreign liquors seized by the coast guard, most of that in the hands of the government is unfitted for medicinal use.

A somewhat similar situation came up after the Florida hurricane when citizens of Miami appealed to Mrs. Mable Walker Willebrandt, assistant attorney general, to cause the release of liquor held by United States marshals for medicinal use by those suffering from exposure. There was little liquor on hand at that time, but officials said that liquor could not be released except on court order, once it had been seized by the government.

Ten Million Gallons

The ordinary governmental stock of medicinal liquor is about 10,000,000 gallons. It is owned by private interest and held in government warehouses subject to withdrawal on permit.

The present influenza epidemic is the first of nation-wide proportions since the Volstead act went into effect in 1919. During the 1918 epidemic war-time prohibition was being enforced, although restrictions on medicinal whisky were not severe.

So far no appeals have been received from medical organizations relative to additional whisky for treating flu. Should the epidemic assume more serious proportions, appeals of this character are a considered certainty.

Beaver County Delegation To Greet McNutt

Coming Here To Meet National Commander In February

Post Commander Ivor V. Davis of the local American Legion post and Assistant District Commander Pat J. Dempsey of the 26th legion district journeyed to Freedom where they met with the Beaver county legion committee to arrange plans for the banquet in honor of Paul V. McNutt of Indianapolis, national commander of the American Legion, to be held in New Castle on the evening of February 12, 1929. Almost every post in Beaver county was represented at the meeting.

At this time the neighboring county committee voted unanimously to support the New Castle post, and District Commander M. J. Kane, who was present, appointed the following committee to care for the arrangements in Beaver County: C. S. Edwards, of Rochester, was named chairman of the county committee, while F. D. Molter, of New Brighton, chef-de-guerre of the 40 and 8, and Dr. H. S. Gilliland, of Aliquippa, were named as members.

Distaict Commander Kane is completing arrangements for a booster meeting of all Beaver county legionnaires to be held in the New Brighton armory on January 20. Past Post Commander Walter W. Braham of this city, has been extended an invitation to make the principal address at this affair. Commander Kane is likewise planning for a district legion meeting to occur at the home of the Perry S. Gaston post in this city on Sunday, December 30. To furnish an incentive for a large attendance at that time, Kane is offering a cup to the post having the greatest percentage of its legionnaires present on that day.

According to reports here, the Beaver county American Legion is back of the local post in its endeavor to handle a big affair for the national legion commander teeth-and-nail. It is said that more than 500 Beaver county legionnaires are planning to attend the commander's banquet, asides from the other functions that will occur while the legion chief is a visitor here during the day.

At the meeting yesterday, P. J. Dempsey presented the plans for the commander's banquet, while Post Commander Davis thanked the post representatives for the support and cooperation already being manifested by the county legion there.

YELLOWSTONE RANGER WILL MAKE ADDRESS HERE ON JANUARY 9

Quickest Way to Sweeten Stomach

PERHAPS that sour condition of your stomach is due to an over-stimulation of gastric acid. A sour stomach isn't very pleasant, and isn't very easy to excuse when there is so simple a way to remedy it. To neutralize the harmful acid and put your stomach in good order take a little "Pape's Diapepsin"; after meals, or whenever the need is felt.

This fine remedy removes the cause of the trouble and promotes normal, healthy digestion. "Pape's Diapepsin" is sold by all druggists at 60 cents a package, and is the remedy which is recommended by millions because it gives immediate relief in all cases of difficult and painful digestion.

Be sure, therefore, to provide yourself with "Pape's Diapepsin" today, so that stomach pain and digestive troubles need never worry you again. Or sour stomach cause you discomfort. This form of relief has helped many who thought their disorders could not be helped.

Splendid Recipe To Stop A Cough That "Hangs On"

The best cough remedy that money could buy, can easily be made at home. It saves money and gives you the most reliable, quick-acting medicine you ever used. The way it takes hold of stubborn coughs and chest colds, giving immediate relief, is astonishing.

Any druggist can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and fill up with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. It's no trouble at all to mix, and when you once use it you will never be without it. Keeps perfectly and tastes good—children really like it.

It is surprising how quickly this home-made remedy loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes and heals the inflamed membranes. At the same time, it is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly on the bronchial tubes, and helps the system throw off the whole trouble. Even those severe coughs which usually follow the "flu", are promptly ended.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creoscte, in a refined, palatable form. Nothing known in medicine is more helpful in cases of severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

New Wilmington Ready To Start Floor Season; Other News Of Town

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 18. — Hickory High School will be the opponent of the local high school basketball team when it opens its season tomorrow evening in the high school gym here. The New Wilmington team had been scheduled to open its season against Union High this Friday but the Union team cancelled the game because of lack of practice.

Having almost the same combination that won the county loop title last year, Coach Olsen may expect a victory over Hickory but he is inaugurating no let-down in the practice sessions through an anticipation of an easy game.

The New Wilmington team will probably line up as follows: Hutchison at center, Patterson and Neal or Davis at guards, Eagleson and Newton at forwards. White and McConnell may break into the game.

Yesterday evening, the Louis Scott Missionary society of the local United Presbyterian church held its Christmas meeting in the church. Mrs. J. E. Clark took charge of the meeting and Mrs. Charles Adams gave an illustrated lecture on Egypt.

The funeral services for the late Mrs. Samuel Harris were held at the Waugh avenue residence here this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Dr. S. A. Kirkbride conducted the services.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Stewart of Akron, Ohio, were visitors in the college town over the week-end. Mr. Stewart sang a solo in the United Presbyterian church Sunday morning.

Fail To Ask For Council Machine

Patrol Could Be Repaired And Put Into Service In Police Department

Although a city official intimated some time ago that he would like to see council purchase a car for use of councilmen to travel in when called upon to make investigations, no such intimation was expressed audibly yesterday when councilmen met. In fact it was considered quite fortunate that the police secured an appropriation of $2,500 for automobiles.

The official doesn't like to be attacked by vermin left in automobiles which carry inebriates to jail. A good way to cure such a situation is to keep a police automobile for council, police investigations and emergency calls and repair the patrol wagon so it can be used for hauling harmless intoxicated persons to a safe place to sleep off a jag.

NEW CASTLE LADY RESTORED TO NEW HEALTH AND VIGOR

Miseries Of Kidney Trouble And Sluggish Liver Ended By New Konjola Medicine.

MRS. ANNA SPANISH
Seavy Photo

Health is the greatest asset we can possess. Without it life is uninteresting and we never seem to attain the utmost happiness we all strive so hard to acquire. Many of us go on from year to year with that half-sick feeling that comes from a rundown and disordered inner-system; complaining of aches and pains and remarking about the tired, drowsy feeling that comes over us so often. Since the introduction of the new Konjola medicine, many thousands of people throughout the Central States and Middle West have voluntarily offered strong words of praise for Konjola and hundreds of men and women have given their signed statements to the Love and Megown drug store, 204 East Washington street, this city, telling of the wonderful benefits they derived from this celebrated compound.

One of the many to describe the new health received from Konjola is Mrs. Anna Spanish, Moore street, South New Castle Borough.

"I had been a sufferer for many years", said Mrs. Spanish, "first trying one thing and then another, before I ever knew there was a medicine like Konjola. But now since I have taken this compound it has ended all my troubles and restored new health to me.

"My whole system was badly rundown and most of my miseries were caused by a sluggish liver and disordered kidneys. These ailments gave me untold trouble and no matter what I took for relief, I continued to suffer. I think that these troubles were brought on by poisons and impurities in my blood. It never seemed to circulate in the proper manner and a peculiar numbness in my limbs was caused by this condition. Because of bladder trouble I had to rise several times every night and when I got up the next morning the first thing that I noticed would be a terrific pain in the small of my back that was almost unbearable. Finally I got so nervous most of the time and recently the least noise would upset me. There were pimples and skin eruptions on my face and body and in spite of everything that I did to correct this, they always came back.

"A friend of mine had been taking Konjola and has received amazing results from it. He advised me to give it a trial and so I started on the treatment. Before the first bottle was gone I began to feel better and I knew that this was the medicine for my case. My kidneys got stronger and now, I don't have to get up a single time during the night. Every ache and pain ended. Then Konjola regulated my liver and cleansed the poisons from my blood. Since Konjola did this the embarrassing skin eruptions have been cleared from my face and body. I have only taken four bottles of this medicine and yet, my health has improved one hundred percent. I am never nervous and my sleep is sound and refreshing.

"Konjola certainly is a wonderful medicine and I want to say once more that I am only too glad to indorse it to others".

Konjola is sold by LOVE & MEGOWN, The Druggist, 204 East Washington street, this city.

Girl Reserves To Aid Santa

Christmas Party Friday Afternoon For Children Of Neighborhood House

Members of the senior high school Girl Reserves organization are once more completing plans for their annual Christmas party for the benefit of some 50 or more children of the neighborhood house. The treat is scheduled to come off in the auditorium of the high school on Friday afternoon of this week, preceding the annual dismissal of students for the holiday period.

The Girl Reserves Christmas affair for the children is an annual one. Each December the members contribute money and secure donations from various places in order to provide the boys and girls with everything that promises to make the kiddies happy. The students of the high school attend in a body to watch the children enjoy themselves.

First comes a Christmas play and then Santa Claus, aided by the Girl Reserves, passes out the gifts. Oranges, nuts, candy, toys and other things are given to the children in an effort to make them happy in order that they might enjoy Christmas to the utmost.

Principal F. L. Orth announces that class periods will be changed about on that day. The third period or assembly period will come last. Following the assembly, the students' annual Christmas vacation which lasts until the new year will begin.

Wilmington And Middlesex Road Is Not Closed

State Detour Maps Still List Route 175 As Having Seven Mile Detour

For some unknown reason the state detour map for this week still lists the road between New Wilmington and West Middlesex as closed and states that there is a seven mile detour over earth road.

The road is supposed to be closed due to the bridge washout during the July flood. It was closed for two days until a temporary bridge was built, but that was the extent of the detouring.

The new bridge which has spanned the creek near West Middlesex has been completed for some time and traffic does not and has never been sent on an earth detour.

Just why this route 175 is listed as being closed is not known.

Students Debating At Senior High School

Students of the English classes of the senior high school are at present engaged in spirited debates on the subject of armaments and other such matters that pertain to the national policy of the United States government. The purpose of the debates is to develop the students in the art of debating as well as to acquaint them with such subjects that are being discussed.

Miss Suzanne Young, head librarian of the school, states that considerable interest is being manifested in the work. The library is constantly occupied with students doing reference work in connection with their debates, she says.

The debating will continue for some time.

Your just think the play isn't given by the original New York company because you can't imagine New York standing for anything so punk.

Lady Says Way It Helped Her Was Wonderful

Relates How Famous Natural Medicine, Ten Herbs, Ended Ailments.

"The results that Ten Herbs gave me were wonderful," was the recent statement of Mrs. Ben McCormick, Chautauqua street, Pittsburgh, to the Ten Herbs Man, who is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, New Castle, Pa., where he is daily demonstrating this modern herbal medicine to crowds of men and women of all ages and stations of life.

MRS. BEN McCORMICK

"For a long time I had been in a very weak, run-down condition," Mrs. McCormick continued. "I was so nervous that I could get but little sleep. The least noise would awaken me. My appetite was poor, and I was troubled with sour stomach. I often became very dizzy, and had headache and backache all the time. My arms ached and were so sore and painful I could hardly raise them. I was also bothered with constipation.

"A neighbor told me about Ten Herbs, and I started using your medicine. Now I am entirely well. My stomach feels fine. All aches and pains are gone. My appetite is good and I sleep soundly all night long. I am very thankful for what Ten Herbs has done for me. It gives me pleasure to recommend your medicine to others."

Ten Herbs is a splendid new liquid combination of potent, health-restoring products of Nature, including herbs, roots, barks and leaves, long recognized as valuable in the treatment of the disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Ten Herbs is different from most medicines, hence the cleansing, soothing, correcting action it has when taken into the human system. More and more persons of this city and countryside are vouching for the exceptional merits of this successful medicine.

The Ten Herbs Man is at Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., 30 East Washington Street, this city, where he is daily meeting the public and explaining the merits of this medicine.

Tyler Says City Has Big Plant

Takes Money For Machinery And Help To Keep Disposal Plant Going Right

"As far as practical knowledge goes the acting superintendent, Mr. Emery, knows his business but he does not know the technical end and I would be averse to jeopardizing the plant by not paying $50 a month to Fuller & McClintock," said Councilman Tyler to colleagues during budget session when it was intimated by Councilman Reeves that the city should lop off the $50 and service. The city pays $50 a month for technical advice.

Tyler said that the need of a chemist and advice is vital.

He said that Emery knew his job and was valuable and deserved a raise.

Tyler also told council that the appropriation made was not sufficient in 1928 and all the city had was a plant.

He said that $6,000 had been appropriated in 1928 and $15,000 has been spent. New machinery has been installed and that the city has a bigger plant on its hands than some suspect. In other words he said that every man employed there is needed and that rather than jeopardize the health of the community by lack of technical advice he believes the city should pay for the service.

He said that Emery has not had much help from other city superintendents who should aid him but that he had to call on Fuller & McClintock.

Fuller & McClintock's service will be continued, council decided.

New Police Cars May Be Provided

Councilmen Discuss Matter; Old Patrol Is Not Used Much

Monday, the mayor, W. H. Gillespie, told council he needed two police cars for the department to use. Naturally everyone knows or should know that police in certain times do require fast and well operating machines. He finally got about $2,500 for that purpose.

"We might give him one car," said Burns.

"One of the two cars is all right, isn't it?" asked Davies.

"Fair," replied the mayor.

"Why is not the patrol used?" Davies asked.

"It won't start. It breaks down," Gillespie replied.

"Because it hasn't been used, perhaps," smiled Davies. "It has a good motor."

"The police never run it because the police do not want to," said Burns.

"No, it wasn't used after the police got the new automobiles," informed Tyler.

"We might put the patrol in some other department," said Burns, adding that the mayor could get a light car.

The patrol has not been used for some time to haul prisoners to jail. It may be that it doesn't look good on the public streets.

The city paid for it, but nowadays prisoners no difference who they are are ridden to jail in the automobiles which were bought for the purpose of catching bandits and making emergency calls.

School Attendance Is Getting Better

More In School Today Than Monday, Declares Superintendent Of Schools

That the school attendance is growing better each day is the report made this morning by Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of New Castle's schools.

"There are far fewer students out of school today than there were Monday," commented Dr. Green, "and in a short time I hope that the school attendance will be normal. At this time it is far from likely that we shall shut down the schools before the Christmas vacation."

Police To Get Two New Cars

Council Makes Provision For Machines In Budget For 1929

Mayor William Gillespie wears a smile today as he has apparently won two automobiles for the police department, provided that he can trade in the old cars and use $2500. If not he will only have to get one car.

When the 1928 appropriation was made $11,600 was placed in the fund for books, stationery and contingent.

The word 'contingent' means anything—in a way and it carried enough money to pay four policemen.

During the year 1928, only three were put on the force and when the budget was compiled tentatively Monday $5,000 was taken from the fund.

The mayor figured and found it left him $2,500 "leeway for police cars." It is up to the mayor now to do some "tall figuring" if he wants to get two cars.

The old cars are worth something and the trade in value added to $2,500 may result in two new cars. He will get one, at least.

Cut Down Money For Street Signs

Councilmen in budget session at city hall yesterday used the razor on the appropriation for street signs. The 1928 appropriation was $4,000, which also included money for traffic lights. Yesterday the appropriation for the coming year was fixed at $3,000. Of the $4,000 fixed for the present year, $800 was left. There are various places for signs, for instance, Hillcrest at Highland; Euclid, at Highland and various other dangerous intersections. It is probable these will be taken care of when the city officials get time to view the spots.

NOT SO BAD AN IDEA, MR. REEVES

During an informal meeting of councilmen yesterday, industrials were discussed.

"I believe the city should advertise that the city will give free taxation to any plant coming here, for a period of five years," said Councilman Reeves.

"I believe we have made ourselves plain on that in communications to bodies seeking plants," replied Davies.

"It would be a good plan; if the plants would agree to stay 10 years longer," remarked Councilman Burns.

It was remarked that perhaps this plan could not be adopted legally, whereupon a councilman remarked: "Oh, I guess we could get around that."

City council wants industrial plants to come to New Castle.

Ordinance Has Not Yet Been Repealed

Not Much Danger Of It Being Adopted As State Law Forbids Increase

When a former council introduced an ordinance providing for a raise in salary to the commissioner of streets, Harry Moore, it was ruled by the city solicitor that under the law he could not be given a raise of salary so the assistant commissioner was given a slight raise. Yesterday councilmen told Councilman Reeves that Moore's salary could not be raised and even though the ordinance has not been repealed they intimated that there is not much chance of it being voted through.

POLICE AND FIREMEN DO NOT ASK RAISE

Neither city police or firemen presented a petition for an increase in salary when the councilmen informally considered the budget yesterday.

Historic Lawrence County

OLD COAL AND PLANK ROAD

Down through from Coaltown by way of the Graceland cemetery, crossing the Neshannock just above the present paper mill dam and then turning in what is now the Pennsylvania road and becoming a three track affair, was the route of the old coal road now gone, but still traceable, writes a north hill resident, who is the first contributor to the historic articles series.

The old coal road tracks are still traceable in many places and the route can be followed quite easily. The trains brought the coal down to the old coke ovens.

The plank road, says the north hill man, was used to haul coal down and was on the site of what we now call Highland avenue. There are some of the older residents of the city who can remember this road and one at least hauled coal over it, states that contributor.

The toll gate was situated on the road at just above the Highland school near the present junction of Moody avenue with Highland.

The old road cannot be traced, at least by the contributor, from Wallace avenue. It is thought that it went down across the hill to Beaver street, past the old sand bank, which was on the hill which is now Jefferson street.

Contributions must be signed with the name of the writer. They must be written briefly and addressed to the historic editor. Points of interest in the entire county are welcomed.

Asks Council To Create New Berth

Fire Chief Would Like To Have Captain For Hook And Ladder, Pump Crew

Fire Chief Charles Lynn yesterday, through Councilman David O. Davies, requested city council to create a berth as captain in the fire department. He would have the new captain, the petition stated, in charge of the new hook, ladder and pump in South Jefferson Street station. He also made a request to the councilmen for an appropriation for new hose and boxes.

This year $3,200 was spent for new hose and a new truck was bought.

Several Hundred Ask Tax Notices

Big Response Being Made To Request As To Citizens' Attitude

Lawrence county people want to be notified of their county taxes and they are expressing that desire to the county treasurer, Miss Adda C. Smiley in a forceful way. Already Miss Smiley has several hundred names before her, including petitions from the steel mill, tin mills and other industries.

The time for installing the system will be here shortly after the first of the year and the time to register commendation of the system is now. This can be done either by dropping a card or letter to the county treasurer, or by starting petitions in mills, factories and stores. Several such petitions are already in preparation in Ellwood City and Wampum, it is understood.

The time is comparatively short. Better sit down and express yourself to the county treasurer and give her and the county commissioners the assurance that the system will meet with the approval of the taxpayers.

Increase Fund For Street Lighting

Councilman D. O. Davies favored the construction of a curb light system in South Jefferson Street between the Diamond and the Neshannock creek bridge. He also favors the extension of lights to Grant, in North Jefferson Street, and when the council compiled appropriations yesterday increased the sum for street lights from $65,000 to $72,000. Six hundred candlepower lights cost $78 each.

Burns said it costs the city $5,700 for lights now.

Councilman Reeves said the city should illuminate South Croton Avenue better.

Need Nearly $700,000 For Operation Of City During Coming Year

Unless councilmen can find appropriations to shave it is probably that it will be necessary to increase the tax levy for 1929 by an assessed valuation of $56,700,000, as solons in informal session Monday afternoon made tentative appropriations totaling $689,263.58. The budget for 1928 was $608,453 and the tax rate 11 mills. Council will convene this afternoon in an effort to lop off some of the appropriations.

A comparison of appropriations made for 1928 and tentatively set for 1929 follow:

	1928	1929
Public affairs	$107,806	$106,666
Accounts, finance	27,000	27,000
Public safety	222,392	210,492
Streets, improvements	173,000	180,220
Parks, property	57,580	91,080
Miscellaneous	20,675	20,600

Appropriations made for contracts, 1929—$33,223.31.

Amounts due on 1928 bills—$19,-282.27.

Total appropriations—1928, $604,453; 1929, $689,263.58.

Explanation for Increase.

An appropriation for department of streets and public improvements, 4-A, has been cut down for 1929. For salaries during 1928, there was $7,600 appropriated. During the year an employe's salary was raised and for 1929 the salary amount will be $20 more, or $7,620. The appropriation for street and traffic signs during 1928 was $4,000. One thousand dollars has been lopped off the fund and where $68,300 was appropriated for 1928, the appropriation for 1929 is $67,320.

In 1928, $3,000 was appropriated for sewer repairs. It was necessary to transfer money to this fund during the year and it has been increased to $4,000 for 1929, making the appropriation 4-B for the city engineer and other employes' salaries, repairs and contingent $20,700, compared to $19,-700. In this sum there is provision made, it was said, for the salary of a building inspector.

Council increased the appropriation for the payment of damage claims $27,000. Only $5,000 was appropriated for 1928. During 1929, however, provision will have to be made to appropriate moneys for damages awarded by viewers amounting to $21,000 for the taking of the Hodge property for Neshannock creek bridge at North street and $6,200 damages growing out of the Gardner avenue viaduct construction.

Twenty thousand dollars which had been appropriated for 1928 to take care of the city's liability for new improvements for 1927, was slashed away. But the appropriation for 4-C was increased from $85,000 to $92,200, making a total of $180,220 for the department of streets and public improvements. The only new equipment provided for is $6,500 for a street sweeper and as $13,700 was placed in the contingent fund a new small truck will be purchased.

$12,000 Golf Necessity.

The department of parks and public property appropriation jumped from $57,580 to $90,080, made necessary by the proposed remodeling of the city building and annex occupied formerly by the East street fire department, creation of a golf course and expense of operation and the sewage disposal plant. While other appropriations were cut, the decrease was overcome by the increase.

Salaries of the superintendent, janitors and clerks remain the same but it was necessary to increase the fund for repairs to the city building (also annex) from $10,000 made in 1928 to $20,000. (It is estimated that the cost of remodeling will be closer to $20,000.) Item D of 5A, "care and improvement of parks, etc.," was increased from $10,000 to $20,000. The city must pay $5,000 for land for five new greens and it is estimated provide $7,000 for operation of the golf course.

Council did not make ample provision for the sewage disposal plant for the year 1928 and during the year an appropriation of $6,000 fell short and it was necessary to increase the appropriation to $15,000. The $15,000 was appropriated for the coming year. City planning commission, printing, advertising and insurance and contingent funds were cut down $5,500. The cost of water for the city's use brought the total appropriation up to $91,089.

Budget Figures Tentative.

The $275 appropriation made annually for G. A. R. services was increased $25. The $500 allotted in past years for swimming pools and bathhouses was discontinued and the miscellaneous appropriation will be $20,-600 as during the year the salary appropriation at the city mechanic's shop was jumped during 1928 from $3,800 to $4,200 and the latter amount was appropriated for 1929, placing the appropriation for the miscellaneous at $20,600.

It is estimated that the valuation will be $56,700,000, approximately the same as last year. While personal valuation dropped, property valuation is increased slightly over 1928 as the result of the construction and remodeling of several large buildings. According to councilmen in session yesterday they said the tax rate, according to the valuation and appropriations would probably be raised. The budget is not final and may be changed today.

Your Broadway And Mine

By WALTER WINCHELL

Exclusive Central Press Dispatch to New Castle News

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Although several of the local cabarets and sotto voce parlors have been shut by the officials, Broadway is alive again, for a pair of darkened cafes have reopened. Joe Lewis, the youth whose artful entertaining excited the Loop hounds in Chicago, until he was slashed mercilessly by gunmen out there, made his debut one evening, and, although obviously apprehensive, he scored.

Master Lewis is a personable young man, given to song and joshing in the intimate manner. In Chicago, a few months ago, he was almost murdered by hired assassins when he left one cabaret to work for another.

They knifed him from ear to ear while he was asleep in his hotel room, leaving him for dead. The various stories have it that Lewis, working on a salary and percentage at one Chicago place, had requested a tilt in wages, considering his amazing drawing power. The request was met with a snub, so he departed to star for a rival outfit. The attack followed almost immediately, but the "ride" proved unsuccessful, although Lewis still is a nervous chap, and little wonder. Yet most of the underworld are fond of him, and they contributed to his welfare, dropping much currency into his hat to settle hospital expenses and so forth. With Pearl Eaton, and other talented entertainers, The Man Who Returned From His Grave furnished an exciting time of it.

CELEBRITIES COME

The other important night life event took place when another club reopened under new management. Not in a long spell has Broadway put on its bib and tucker and showed off as it did that night, and the most representative people of the newspaper, theatrical and underworld rubbed shoulders and knees with each other between numbers of Roy Mack's enticing girl episodes.

The most popular song writers and prize fighters occupied ringside tables and bowed to the stars across the way. Narcotic detectives, in their evening attire, struck up a serious attitude. Hilda Ferguson, the one-time Ziegfeld hip flipper, shook in a dress packed with glistening irridescents. James Barton (pinch hitting for the stars, Clayton, Jackson and Durante) triumphed with fascinating songs and stepping. Donald Ogden Stewart, the actor, danced to the contagious music with a pashy look in his good eye. Lassies from Mr. Ziegfeld's "Whoopee" company yessed the Johns accompanying them, and the composer of "Sonny Boy," Lew Brown, was greeted affectionately.

The attractive cabaret, in fewer words, was crowded with celebrities you read about in the daily prints, and any newspaper follower might have recognized the various front-page villains and heroes. For example, Mr. McManus of the Rothstein affair was represented by his young brother, the tenor. Sidney Staljer, whose bail was recently lowered so he could be temporarily freed, was there, as was Nigger Nate Raymond, one of the members who sat in on the poker game in which the late Mr. Rothstein dropped all that money. The appearance of these exciting citizens of the Broadway sector aroused Texas Guinan, who remarked: "They probably won't give out checks here tonight. They'll give out verdicts."

A PEGGY HOPKINS JOYCE PLAY

A typically skeptical New York first night group gathered at the Henry Miller Theater to witness the return to the local platform of pretty Peggy Hopkins Joyce, better described as the internationally known temptress. The starring vehicle by E. Ray Goetz is christened "The Lady of the Orchids," his adaptation from the French of Jacques Natanson, and in it she contributes a graceful, natural and entertaining account of herself, surprising not a few of the auditors, who believed she was only a manikin—a Peg to hang some clothes upon.

The piece is merely an intermittently pleasant affair, revealing how ladies of leisure live and love. It is all as light as an orchid and as fragile. It probably will not thrive. Put it down, then, as the sort of trifle for which yer pays yer money and takes yer Joyce (oop!) with all of her gorgeous gowns, wraps, jewels and ermines.

County Dog Owners Must Buy Licenses Prior To January 1

All Dogs Must Be Licensed Or Owners Will Be Prosecuted

Lawrence county dog owners have until the last day of December, 1928, to secure their dog licenses. After that date prosecutions will begin, according to the state bureau of animal industry.

J. W. Brewster, Lawrence and Beaver county representative of the state department, announces that there is no time duration for the licenses and dog owners must get their licenses at once.

Mr. Brewster also gives warning to owners who leave their dogs untied at night. At all times an owner is responsible for his dog or dogs but especially at night they must be tied. Persons who fail to observe this will be prosecuted.

Recently there has been several raids on sheep in the county and several dogs have been shot. Owners of dogs which have done such damage will be prosecuted when clues indicate the name of the owner.

Due to the increasing numbers of sheep which are being raised in the country a careful check has to be kept on dogs. The wisest plan, states the animal industry representative, is to keep your dog tied.

New York doesn't seem so superior when you hear the Jones boy from next door went there and made good.

Refuse Permit For New Galilee Rail Extension

Inter-State Commerce Commission Says Facilities Are Adequate In This District

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—Officials of the Pittsburgh Coal company today declined to comment on the action of the Interstate Commerce Commission withholding authority for the construction of 41 miles of additional line by the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western railroad, holding that existing railroad facilities were available.

Early this year the Pittsburgh Coal company bought control of the Pittsburgh, Lisbon and Western, a 23 mile line from New Galilee to Lisbon, O. Permission then was asked to build two extensions, one south to Smiths Ferry on the Ohio river and one north to Youngstown.

The line would have made it possible for mines on the Monongahela river to ship coal by barge to Smiths Ferry and from there to Youngstown by rail at a substantial saving in freight over the all-rail route.

It would also have enabled Youngstown steel producers to ship their products by barge down the Ohio and Mississippi rivers to southern points.

The application, when brought before the commission, was opposed by other railroad carriers in this district who maintained that their service was adequate to handle the traffic from Pittsburgh coal fields to Youngstown.

One Scout Will Get Free European Trip

Arrangements are being made by the Lawrence county Boy Scout organization whereby one scout from the county will receive all expenses paid to the international Boy Scout meet in England next fall.

A point and honor system is being planned whereby all of the scouts will complete. The winner in the contest will receive the trip. Announcement concerning the plan, states Mr. Calahan, will be made within the next few days.

Sixteen Scouts And Leaders To Go To England

Sure That Entire Party Will Be Made Up From Local Boy Scouts

Sixteen scouts and scout leaders of the county have already signed to make the European trip with J. Lee Calahan next August. Several more have signed since Monday and a sufficient number almost to make out the entire party from this city have announced their intentions to go.

The list of persons who thus far have stated for a certainty that they are going follow:

GIRL FRIGHTENED BY DOG LAST NIGHT

A call was received by the police last night from the Moore building, Cascade and East Washington streets, last night that a dog had jumped at a small girl. Officers Harper and Augostine answered the call, found that the dog had merely pawed at the girl and not bitten her. The dog was ordered tied up for ten days.

It's just as well that the meek inherit the earth. Nobody else would stand for the inheritance tax.

Sharon Taxicab Reported Stolen

Sharon police authorities notified the local police department this morning about 4 a. m. that about 3 a. m. Tuesday morning, that a man had held up one of the drivers of the McClure Taxicab Company of that place and had taken the machine.

The man stealing the car is described as being middle aged, wearing a dark gray overcoat and a slouch hat.

Marry Again? No!

Gilda Gray, Polish immigrant girl, who rose to Broadway heights as "queen of shimmy," vigorously denies she is to wed her manager, C. D. Krepps. Gilda is suing her husband, Gil Boag, for divorce, and he, in turn, has named Krepps in his reply. The dancer declares she will not marry soon because she is "devoted to her art."

Hold Negro For March Court Term

Accused Of Holding Up Another Negro And Taking Money

Theodore Melvin, negro, charged with highway robbery by James C. Hokes, negro, was given a hearing this morning before Alderman Walter T. Hamilton.

Following the hearing Melvin was held for the March term of court and in default of $50 bail was remanded to the county jail to await his trial.

Hokes told his story to the effect that he had been on the West Side to see a sick man, remaining there until his friends, cook, returned about 11:30 o'clock.

He went down on South Jefferson street on his way home and stopped at a store. There he had asked the woman in charge to get him a bottle of wine. He gave her a ten dollar bill to get it. She returned stating she was unable to get it.

Melvin was in the store and saw him get the ten dollar bill in change. A few minutes later he was walking down the street, some one grabbed him and tied his hands behind his back. He had two dollars in his hand. The balance was in one of his pockets.

"I managed to turn around as we were tussling and recognized Melvin, who with two other fellows held me up and took $35 from me in September" said Hokes.

"We fell to the ground. I had an old knife and tried to use it on Melvin. I was afraid he had some help and they would crack me on the head, so I says to him, 'here take this two dolars' which I had in my hand. He had secured the eight dollars from my pocket. He took the money and ran away.'

"I works for a living, same as he do" declared Melvin in defense. "Ah never stole anything from nobody."

Officer Dukes told of the arrest of Melvin and the finding of the money on him.

"Held for the March term of court" was the decision of the alderman.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

This matter of food for the court house squirrels has reached a point where threatening letters are being used. Some days ago when it looked as though the squirrels were going to have nothing but their thoughts to chew on all winter, Commissioner Phil Elder signed up for a bushel of corn for the animals. Then the donation list went around for the squirrels and Elder began to think that he might get out with half a bushel or something like that.

Somebody has taken up the matter for the squirrels and yesterday Elder got a bill from the legal representative of the outfit dunning him for the bushel of corn.

What to do is the question now. Phil went short on corn, sold short in fact and now he has to deliver. And if he doesn't, the jail house yawns just beyond.

This sharp weather will do heaps towards laying the flu epidemic and all of us can start three cheers. And in the future don't be praying for such nice weather in December. Weather is something like people. There's always something suspicious about such nasty nice weather and people too.

December is expected to come thru with some rough weather and when it turns out like August, look out for epidemics.

Next time the flu comes along some organizing genius should take it in hand and arrange it on a more efficient basis. Pick out four good bridge players and herd them together. Or say four saxophone players and herd them together.

Or four radio liars, or fishing fans, or stove league baseball fans. Then they can enjoy their misery together.

It would be sweet for the bridge players. A fellow would have two good reasons then for killing a partner who trumped his ace. One because he had the flu and the other for trumping the ace.

Should this system be carried out, the question is what would the kibitzers have? And the answer comes from the Legion Home, bold free, "ninety days in jail."

All of which brings up the fact that Friday evening the Legion will hold its annual Christmas party. Singing and smoking and eating, and the Battle of the Boulevards all together again. With this exception, that there will be no M. P's. there to clamp down on some of these bathroom baritones.

Which brings up something else again. Heard a quartet on the streets last night. The lead singer was a boy about 16 I would judge, the tenor was a beardless sophomore whose voice was just changing, the baritone had a cold, and the bass singer was out. The number was "I Wonder How the Old Folks Are At Home." And when they hit that minor strain about "I wonder if they miss me while I roam," the thought occurred to me that the only reason for missing them would be a poor aim.

That's a great old quartet piece for all that. Many a night I've helped to murder it out under an electric light, but in justice to the dulcet voices of the other conspirators I'll say this, that if our voices were any worse than those of last night, then laws are a good thing after all.

BAUMES LAW

The Baumes law in New York, which provides life imprisonment for habitual criminals, whether the offense is extremely serious or not, is properly copied by other state legislatures. The fourth conviction, no matter what the charge, sends the convicted man to prison for life under the provisions of this drastic measure. Such a law speaks to the habitual criminal in the language he can understand. Feeling the teeth in the Baumes law he moves on to another state. Other states will do well to stimulate their legislatures to activity.

VERSATILITY

To say that a man is versatile—that he can do many things—is usually to give him praise. But versatility is not always a desirable quality. In the first place the versatile fellow often does not do anything outstandingly well. In the second place he may be versatile in useless or worse than useless accomplishments. Let us remember that one reason why the corn borer is so hard to exterminate is that it can live on more than 200 different kinds of plants.

The corn borer is versatile.

POPULAR EDUCATION

Those who are mentally progressive frequently believe in a great many things as unquestionable and unmixed goods which are only partly good and which need a great deal of intelligent regulation. For instance almost everybody believes in popular education and democracy. But somebody has said, comparing the old days in England when there were few free schools and little popular education with the present days when there is a great deal of popular education: "They have just taught the fools to talk."

There are, perhaps, about as many fools as ever, only in the old days they said less and perhaps were less of a nuisance to those of the educated classes who were really prepared and trained to govern the rest.

AND DEMOCRACY

And as to democracy, thoughtful people, while believing in the experiment, know that it is still on trial. It may in the long run prove to have been far from the best possible type of government.

Democracy calls for the most earnest and generous cooperation from all the inhabitants in the nation. The fact is that few are WILLING to give great cooperation, and a much larger number are UNABLE to give intelligent cooperation.

The Navy says it needs more men, a conclusion that its ancient foe, the Army, reached a long time ago.—The Sioux Falls Daily Argus-Leader.

Must Get Permit To Send Corn To State Farm Produce Show

County Farmers Can Get Permits From County Agent's Office

Harold McCulloch, county agent, announces to the farmers of Lawrence county that ear corn which has been raised in the corn borer quarantined area, in which this county is situated, may be taken to the state farm products show at Harrisburg the week of January 22.

It is, however, states the county agent, necessary to obtain a special permit for the corn containers and this may be secured at the office of the farm bureau on Croton avenue.

No corn will be admitted to the show or may even be sent, without this permit as the county is under quarantine due to the prevalence of the borers here.

These permits may be obtained until as late as January 20 from the county agent's office.

Its another kind of solid South that Commander Byrd is investigating.

Regular Exercise Is Real Flu Chaser

It may be it and it may not be, but the fact is that regular workers out at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium have not contracted the flue in the present illness epidemic, according to the statement of physical directors.

There are some 30 business men about town who take their sweating workouts without fail several times each week. The rest of the classes perhaps do not work out so seriously and regularly.

However, actual facts in the case prove that those men who have worked out constantly and have been persistent in their exercises have not contracted any colds.

The formula is to keep the impurities out of the system by perspiration following the rather violent exercise. Indications are that this has done it

Kerper now is serving fifteen months in the federal prison at Atlanta, Ga.

After entering the pleas, Frederick L. Ballard, counsel for Norris presented a motion attacking the indictment against his client on the ground that it does not set forth any offense. Jaworski Bids Wife Goodbye

Wife And Baby Visit Jaworski For Last Time In Pittsburgh Cell

WILL DIE IN CHAIR ON DECEMBER 31

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—Paul Jaworski, Pennsylvania's arch bandit-killer, today bade his wife and 13-months-old baby girl goodbye. The killer is to die December 31 in the electric chair at Rockview for the murder of a payroll guard.

The killer conversed quietly with Mrs. Margaret Pallas, his wife, and played with Lorraine Margaret, his baby girl.

Mrs. Pallas was firm in her declaration of love for the doomed killer.

"Paul always treated me right and I loved him. I still do," she said.

She denied she had ever seen any of the fabulous sums of money her husband is alleged to have looted from payrolls and hold-up jobs, and declared she always believed Jaworski was "straight".

"Paul and I had been married four years and I worked all the time up until he was arrested the first time in Pittsburgh," she said.

"I thought Paul was working, too. When we lived in Detroit he always went out in the morning and came back at night as if he was working. We lived in a little flat and it was hard work to make both ends meet."

Religious Survey Of City Meeting With Good Succees

Many Homes Visited By Volunteer Workers On Monday And Today

The religious survey that is being made this week throughout the city in preparation for the visitation evangelistic campaign which will be conducted in January under the supervision of Dr. Earl Kernahan of Boston is meeting with good success.

The survey which is being done principally by women opened Monday morning and in spite of the bad weather and many of the volunteer workers being ill, many calls were reported for the day and many cards were turned in to the various headquarters.

The committee in charge of the survey is very much encouraged by the way the people are responding to the project. The committee asks that as many workers as can to report for work at their respective churches each morning and afternoon until the survey is completed on Friday. Those having cars are asked to take them in order that calls may be made where people were not found at home yesterday and today.

Erickson Tells His Life Story

Evangelist Reveals His Intimate Experiences To Large Crowd

TELLS OF DECISION TO BE EVANGELIST

Speaking before a crowd of at least 2,200 persons Monday evening, Evangelist C. H. Erickson of Everybody's Tabernacle, related an intimate story of his life and how he had come to serve God in the capacity of an evangelist. The message was interesting and well received by the audience.

Preceding his sermon the evangelist acknowledged courtesies which have been extended to him during the party's 13 weeks of revival work at the South Hill street location. Among those were acknowledgements to the New Castle News; to the M. and D. Radio company for the amplifying system which they installed at the tabernacle; to the council of the city for their permission to erect the wooden building within the Zone A fire district; to the churches of the city for their hearty cooperation, and to numerous other individuals and concerns who have aided the party in any way.

"We are leaving for Youngstown," said Rev. Erickson in the evening's announcements—"but don't think we will ever forget the good people of the city of New Castle. We will always remember you." Then in continuing he said that arrangements are being made with station WKCM in Youngstown to broadcast their services at the tabernacle in Growers' Market, in that city, every Thursday night. This night's sermon, he said, will be for the people of your city here. It will be New Castle night at our services. The crowd gave a heary applause at the close of his announcement, which goes to snow what Rev. Erickson thinks of the people of New Castle.

According to the evangelist, the revival in the neighboring Ohio city will commence on Sunday afternoon, January 20, at 1:15 o'clock. A large delegation of New Castle people are planning to attend the opening service there, and accordingly Rev. Erickson has gone ahead to make transportation possible. Three New Castle-Youngstown interurban cars have been chartered to carry approximately 200 friends of the party to Youngstown.

The evangelist's message on Monday night was an intimate story of his life. It is his custom before closing a campaign any place to give a review of his youth, his early manhood and then how he came to know God and serve God.

Rev. Erickson said in part:

"I was not a sinner in my life. My father, grandfather and great grandfather were the real sinners. Yes, I too have some deep black sins on my life record, but friends, they are nothing like my father's and grandfathers.

"My grandfather came from Norway. I suppose they through him out. He was a terrible drinker and acted terrible when he got drunk. Whenever he got connected with whiskey he had an idea that all the constables in the district should be licked. He would travel long distances looking for them and when he found them would almost ruin them. He was some fighter. Despite this fault, the old man had a good heart and would spend his money for any reason at all to help somebody. Many times he would come hime with not one cent in his pocket.

"When grandfather got drunk all of our family would kid him and call him an old drunkard. But father was just as bad. He followed the footsteps of his drinking father and acted about the same as my grandfather would. The whole bunch taught me to swear before I was old enough to talk good.

"Somehow when I was four years old father happened into a Lutheran church in the city where we lived. Somehow and in some way, father was converted. God made a great change in our lives then. I stopped swearing after a while, but I couldn't get away from it for some time. My father could not whip me for swearing for it was he who had taught me to do so. Nevertheless he treated me rather harsh when I did so and I finally got away from the habit.

"Father went out into the world to be a preacher, after the Lutheran church had ordained him as a minister. I was sent out too. My father and I both testified how God had changed our lives and what He had done for us.

"In my grammar school our family moved all over the country. I went to 21 grammar schools during the time after I started out to preach and until I was about 19 years old.

"During my grammar school days the boys and girls with whom I went to school nicknamed me 'Curly,' because I had curly hair. But I didn't like this, in fact I would smooth my hair down with anything in an effort to ward off the nickname they had attached to me. One day I did flatten my hair out, as to attract attention, but at the same time I attracted attention towards a different place. I had numerous patches on the seat of my trousers and because of this they called me 'Patches.' This was even worse but just the same I got that name until I left them. I liked to fight then and would do so at any time. I often got licked but never thought so.

"I had a mother who knew God even if my father and grandfather didn't at first. She never complained about anything even during hard times. We had a family altar in our home, too.

"But early in my youth, when I was 11 years of age to be exact, my mother took sick. In 1908 she died, with a request on her dying lips for me, as the eldest of six children, to follow father now and preach the gospel.

"Father got married again and the step-mother treated us fine but she couldn't manage us. My first mother had been so kind and then too strict.

"I had practiced preaching since I was six years and was already to do so when I grew old enough. I would imitate other ministers and said I would do the same when I got old enough."

Evangelist Edickson then states that after preaching for some time he got into bad financial shape. He purchased a 40-acre prune area in California and went into making money so he could continue to preach better on. Somehow while interested in making money the evangelist almost forgot God, almost forget of everything in his endeavor to make money. He played poker, smoked and developed a terrible cigarette habit which never left him until he pledgd his life to God forr the last time. God called him the last time at a poker game in a California hotel. He was there with other men—many of whom ewer wealthy and worldly. They wanted him to take a trip abroad. But he says God called him when in the act of playing the game. He stopped, picked up a cigarette, said it was his last one; took a drink and likewise said it was his last drink and then declared to his friends that he was going to serve God as an evangelist. And from that day to this, since he was in his twenties, he has never smoked, never drank, and has tried to serve God to his utmost.

Worthy it is of note that Rev. Erickson preached his first sermon in the city of Pittsburgh when he was 17 years old. He substituted for his father who was late in arriving at the church. Since that time his work has taken him through most of the states from Maine to California and Louisiana to Oregon.

Rev. Erickson has five brothers and one sister living. His father is also living. The evangelist declares that all of the boys are saved but the sister is not. They are praying, he said, that she too will accept Christ one of these days. "I feel that she will," he concluded.

Alex. E. Baer Is Found Dead In His Room

Was Pioneer In West And Formerly Connected With City Roller Mills

HEART TROUBLE CAUSE OF DEATH

Alexander E. Baer, aged 73, of No. 11 West Wallace avenue, was found dead in his room this morning by his sister-in-law, Mrs. E. N. Baer. Mr. Baer had not been in very good health of late, but was apparently as well as usual when he retired Monday evening. This morning, when he did not come down to breakfast at his usual time, Mrs. Baer went to call him and found him lying dead on the floor of his room. He had dressed himself and had apparently been on his way to breakfast when he fell. Coroner J. P. Caldwell was summoned and pronounced death due to heart trouble.

Mr. Baer was born near New Middletown, Ohio. In his earlier life he had been a western pioneer, going to Kansas when a young man, where he took up claims and engaged in farming for a number of years. He was still the owner of a farm in Kansas at the time of his death.

Coming to New Castle many years ago he became interested with the Veache's in the city mills, being one of the partners. He retired from active business a number of years ago, devoting his time to looking after his properties here. About two years ago he suffered a stroke from which he never fully recovered. Of late his health has been failing.

Mr. Baer never married. His nearest surviving relative is a sister, Minnie Baer, of this city. He was a brother of the late Attorney E. N. Baer, at the home of whose widow, Mrs. S. Emma Baer, he died.

Although well advanced in years Mr. Baer always took a keen interest in sports. He had been a great hunter, in his earlier days in Kansas, and until recently had found great pleasure in roaming the hills and hollows of Lawrence county in quest of game.

Mr. Baer was a member of the Lutheran church. He was well known and had many friends in this city.

Funeral services will be conducted Thursday, December 20, at 2:30 p. m. from the residence, 11 Wallace avenue.

Local Folks Plan Winter Cruises In Different Lands

Trips Will Commence For Most Travelers Around January 15

There will be quite a number of New Castle people cruising the seven seas this winter, according to A. J. Goldman.

Those who have booked up reservations for trips during the winter months are as follows:

Miss Elizabeth Reis of East street, and Miss Phyllis Shaw are embarking on a cruise around the world that will last four and a half months. The girls are leaving on board the German liner Resolute on January 7 next; Mr. and Mrs. Mark W. Graham are sailing on board the White Star Liner Adriatic on January 1 for a Mediterranean cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. James T. Ray of East Wallace avenue, and also Miss Jessie Ray and Miss Elizabeth Ray have engaged passage on the Canadian Pacific steamship Empress of Scsotland for a three months tour of the Holy Land, Egypt and southern Europe. Their date has not been set. Robert A. McKinney of Moody avenue, is leaving for the Holy Land on the White Star Liner Adriatic on February 28.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry G. Preston of Lincoln avenue, are leaving for the coast on January 26, at which time they will embark on the Matson Liner Malolo for a two months' tour of the Hawiian and South Sea Islands.

Council To Pare Down 1929 Budget

Tentative Appropriations Would Increase Millage, Report

It is believed that when members of council convene informally again to consider the appropriations for 1929, that there will be several appropriations slashed.

The present appropriations, tentatively set would increase the tax levy and it is intimated that this feature does not sit well with several councilmen.

The tax levy in 1928, set when the last appropriations were made is 11-3-4 mills. The appropriations as drafted yesterday would boost the millage and it is believed that council will pare down to effect as low a millage as possible.

Police Shorthanded Because Of Sickness

The city police force is acting under a severe handicap at the present time due to the number of officers who are off duty on account of sickness of various kinds, principally of the grip type.

There are approximately eight members of the force off duty at the present time. Hopes are entertained that the colder weather conditions may have the effect of putting an end to the epidemic of sickness that has been sweeping through this section and that the force will soon return to normal.

Plan To Decorate Two Pine Trees

It was learned today that Miss Mae Hoyt, Winter avenue, is arranging to have two beautiful pine trees illuminated. The trees are located on the Hoyt property and when they are "dolled up" in a yuletide garment of vari-colored lights they should prove an attraction worth coming far to see.

There is talk of linking the two Americas. Maybe it could be done with chain stores.—The Toledo Blade.

Two Are Guilty By Court Verdicts

Liquor Charges Against Both; Two More Cases Reach Jury

Verdicts in the cases of W. C. Fowler and Steve Shaneski were returned late Monday afternoon by the juries which had tried the cases in the Lawrence county courts. Both verdicts were guilty.

Fowler was charged with driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, while Shaneski was charged with possession of liquor.

Two more cases went to the jury just before noon today. The case against George W. Shook charged with issuing a fraudulent check, was finished this morning before Judge James A. Chambers and went to the jury at 11:30.

It was charged that Shook had issued a $100 check to the State Auto Sales company as a down payment on an automobile. This was not denied, but he said that the reason he did it was to have the agents quit bothering his mother.

Before Judge R. L. Hildebrand the case against Mary Dudeck went to the jury just before noon. In this case the defendant is charged with possession and sale of liquor.

In court room No. 2 W. T. Kennedy went on trial charged with embezzlement by agent and fraudulent conversion, the charge being preferred by Mary McKee.

Some Of County Schools Are Closed

County Superintendent Directs Closing Of Several Schools Due To Illness

Because of the flu epidemic which has swept the county, several of the county schools have been closed by County Superintendent John C. Syling.

The schools closed because of the flu are Ewing Park, Shenango-Taylor joint school, Grant Boro in Slippery Rock township, and a possibility of Shenango township consolidated being closed also.

Hundreds of children are out of the county schools, many teachers are out, and college students are being used as substitutes. Superintendent Syling believes that the course of wisdom is to close a school where much flu exists, in order to protect the ones not yet stricken, and acting upon this belief has ordered the above schools closed.

It is felt that the present cold wave will reduce the flu very sharply, as it was felt that the undue warm weather and heavy atmospheric condition was responsible.

Tree Funds Are Arriving Slowly

PERSISTENCE GETS MAN INTO CITY JAIL

Police received a call last night to the effect that a man was annoying the people residing at 825 East Washington street.

Ofifcers Dukes and M. J. Young answered the call and found a man named Robert Hazlett there. He was acting in a disorderly manner, but the police ordered him to leave and go home.

After advising him to go home the officers drove around the square and found that he had returned and was making trouble.

He was arrested, and this morning he was fined $5 by the mayor, which he paid.

Loughran Wins Over Peterson

Tommy Loughran In First Fight As Heavyweight Wins Ten-Round Decision

JOEY SANGOR IS KNOCKOUT VICTIM

By CLAIR KELLY
International News Service Special Correspondent

CHICAGO, Dec. 18. — Tommy Loughran, the "late" light heavyweight champion of the world, is full-fledged "heavyweight" today, having gone into a ring here last night weighing 184 pounds and coming out with a 10-round decision over "Big Boy" Peterson, of New Orleans via Minnesota.

This news, however, is merely incidental to the big story that developed at the Coliseum show. Although the Loughran-Peterson affair was billed as the main event, the evening reached a dramatic climax when Joey Sangor of Milwaukee, a really great fighter, was flattened in two rounds by a lad identified as Armando Santiago.

This astounding upset follows in line with the defeats of Tuffy Griffiths, Johnny Risko and Jimmy McLarnin, all on one recent night, and subsequently the stiffening of Knute Hanson by K. O. Christner.

The confident Sangor, who was leading contender for the junior lightweight laurels and matched to meet that division's champion, Tod Morgan, in Milwaukee on New Year's afternoon, regarded his bout with the abscure Santiago as a mere "practice" session. Apparently he was the most surprised man in the house at the fireworks displayed by his chocolate coated opponent.

Enraged by the stinging blows he received in the first round, Sangor threw caution to the wind in the second frame and started to slug it out. First he went down for a count of nine. He was barely on his feet when Santiago administered the 'coup de grace." Joey was still "out" when the final count was intoned.

Add $5,460 Sum For Police Salaries

No Increase Over Present Rate; Just A Manipulation Of Items, That's All

Before the appropriations for 1928 were made by council, it was not certain if new police would be added to the force.

To take care of the situation, however, provision was made for the payment of salaries to four policemen.

The sum was placed in the contingent fund.

The appropriation listed for salaries was $81,906, but yesterday $5,460 was added, making the 1929 appropriation $87,366.

The money for the pay of the three policemen will now be taken from the fund appropriated for police salaries.

Georgia Tech To Test California In Grid Battle

Grid Scout Who Saw Tech Beat Georgia, Arrives Back In California

(International News Service)

BERKELEY, Cal., Dec. 18.—If the Golden Bears of California ever had the idea that the Golden Tornado of Georgia Tech was a mild southern breeze, it was dispelled here today by "Brick" Mitchell, who has returned from scouting the Georgia Tech-Georgia game.

Although Georgia Tech was reported under wraps when it played its state rivals, Mitchell evidently saw enough to convince himself that the Bears would have an exceedingly busy afternoon on New Year's Day at Pasadena.

After Coach Price conferred with Mitchell, the program for the Bears underwent a sudden change. It was originally intended to have the Bears practice but five days before the game. Now, however, the California athletes will get ten days of intensive workouts before the clash.

Because of the victories of Oregon State and Stanford in the East, Price is faced with the problem of forcing his young men to realize that the West is not infallible and can ride to a fall the same as any of them.

Both California and Georgie Tech will work out in the Pasadena Rose Bowl. One team will do its practicing in the mornings and the other in the afternoon.

Americanism: Feeling superior to other nations because Fate gave us such a big apple we can't eat the core.

Back To Boston

By Feg Murray

When spring comes around (Oh, hurry up, happy day!) and it is time to report to the various baseball training camps, three elderly gents will arrive at the Braves' hangout at St. Petersburg, Florida, and call out in lusty voices, "Good Morning, Judge!" They will be addressing Judge Emil Fuchs, president and manager of the Boston National League team; and the three aged, but far from decrepit, men will be, reading from left to right, "Hankus Pankus" Gowdy, "Jawn" Evers alias "The Crab," and "Rabbit" Maranville, the playboy who finally grew up.

Back in 1914, when the Braves were the sensation of the baseball world, the inspiration of their drive, which took them from nowhere on July 4th to a pennant and then a world's championship in four straight games, was the Rabbit himself, ably assisted by Jawn Evers and Hank Gowdy. The Rabbit and the Crab, playing side by side in the infield, supplied the defense and the fight, while amiable Hank did most of the hitting; in fact, the venerable Mr. Gowdy batted .545 for the four-game series.

Judge Fuchs will probably smile a warm greeting to the three wandering ball-players, for they undoubtedly will help the Braves, and who knows but that by next spring he will have signed up Leslie Mann, who is still around after helping the Braves win more than fourteen years ago, and maybe one of two of the 1214 pitching staff of James, Rudolph, Tyler, Devore, and Gilbert!

If Tex Rickard should ever gaze up the magnificent "Arc de Triomphe" in Paris, he might feel moved to say, "Another of those million-dollar gates."

Seeking Match For Christmas

May Put Firpo Or McFowler On At Jolly Bowl Next Week

Bill Jolly, promoter of boxing at the Jolly bowl, today is trying to land a good bout for the bowl Christmas afternoon. It is said he will either use a brace of heavyweights or welterweights in the ring.

Jolly had hoped to land Frankie Schoell for Henry Firpo but the Buffalonian was busy. He wired to Milwaukee and discovered the same state of affairs existed relative to Tony Brown and he is looking elsewhere for an opponent for Firpo.

In the meantime he has been dealing with Frankie Wine and Ike Fowler but it is not known yet who he will put in the ring as he was not in the city until early today, his pugilistic quest having led him to other cities.

U. S. Carpentier, Pittsburgh, who fought Frankie Rio, and Joey Goodman, however, are certainties in the semi-final.

Schools Closed Until First Of Year In Ellwood

Number Of Pupils Absent On Account Of Sickness Mounts To 1352 Last Days

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 18.—Monday it was announced in the local schools that there would be no sessions until January 2. This action was made necessary by the fact that so many of the children were out of school with an illness of some sort. While the grip has been taking the local people lightly, it necessitated their staying in and thus avoiding any more serious set-backs.

The schools were to close for their Christmas holidays on December 22. This new plan gives the children about seventeen days of vacation. It had been the plan in the Lincoln school to hold mid-semester tests this week. Naturally these will have to be postponed until after the first of the year.

MEN THAT ARE LOOKING FOR A BUSINESS

We realize that the statements in this ad seem unbelievable to the average man. However, they are the absolute truth and your investigation of the facts is invited.

These are all actual experiences of men in the business or profession named. We have their signed statements. Most of them had no previous experience.

We want 6 or 8 more men who can do as well.

PLANT FOREMAN
W. G. M.: I wish to state that on my former salary it would have taken me 10 years to pay the mortgage on my home. My first year here will completely wipe out the mortgage, as I will earn close to $10,000.

PROFESSOR OF LANGUAGES
F. R.: I was told that I could make $100 per week if I worked hard enough. In the month of June I earned $1,600 in cold cash; just think of it. My family is enjoying comforts and luxuries such as they had only dreamed of in the past.

TRAVELING SALESMAN
R. E. B.: Growing tired of traveling away from home for weeks and months at a time, I became interested in this business, and in 2 years after I quit my $60 a week traveling job I attained an income of $10,000 a year.

DEPARTMENT STORE CLERK
J. N. B.: I was with a department store making $32.50 per week at 45 years of age. Here I earned $54 my first week; however it was soon up to $185 a week. I am now 46 years old, married and living happily off my earnings; have a nice automobile. I am glad to say I have found a place where I have a chance to make my fortune and retire in 5 years, health permitting.

CARPENTER
W. B. D.: I spent 4 years learning the carpenter trade to earn $45 per week. Four days' training here fitted me for a $500-a-month position.

SPECIALTY SALESMAN
J. F. W.: My earnings in a former position varied from $3,000 to $5,000 a year. Here my check for the first week was $40, second week $60, third week $80, fourth week $90. Now I am making between $175 and $200 every week. My regret is that someone did not bring this product to my attention years ago.

FARMER
B. D. U.: I was losing money in the dairy business which I had inherited from my father. The second month with you I earned approximately $400. The first year approximately $3,000. I have just about made up the losses on farm investments. At the present time, I am making $100 per week. In the hot summer months my check ran as high as $150 per week.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Most of the industrial stocks started the day at higher prices, carrying forward the rally which closed yesterday's slow session of the market. The bulls pressed their advantage against the bears in National Bellas Hess, running that stock up another 10 points to 18⅝, while the shorts squirmed under the lash of a 34-point jump in the stock since yesterday noon.

Dull and irregular—that is still the condition of a market which apparently is taking a breathing spell between big movements.

Erie, Chicago Great Western and other railroad stocks moved up a point or two as rumors of a renewal of consolidation efforts were circulated in Wall Street.

Chrysler and Packard stiffened up in the second hour and led a moderate advance in the motor stocks. Chrysler sold up about 4 points at 119 3-4 and Packard 2. Willys Overland, Hupp and Hudson were firm.

Montgomery Ward moved out of its narrow fut and sold up 7 points at 123, as a response to the reports of a good increase in the holiday trade. Radio and Victor Talking Machine responded with 5-point jumps to another batch of merger rumors, the latest promising a definite announcement of terms "today or tomorrow."

Shorts were sent to cover in the copper stocks, Greene Cananea moving up 5 points and Anaconda 2½.

Money loaned at 7 per cent.

Conflict Between Vatican And State Near To End; See Settlement Soon

BY GUGLIELMO EMANUEL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

Copyright, 1928, International News Service.

ROME, Dec. 18.—The 58-year-old conflict between the Vatican and the Italian State is believed to be on the eve of settlement, it was learned from authoritative quarters today.

Negotiations between representatives of Pope Pius VXI and Premier Mussolini have been under way for many months.

Principles Outlined

The agreement, which is believed imminent, is expected to be based on the following principles:

1—Regulation of the future relations between Italy and the Vatican.

2—Italy will recognize the Papal State as a sovereign entity.

3—The Papal State will be formed of territory upon which the Vatican now stands with surrounding properties.

4—The Papal State will possess at least one railway station instead of a territorial corridor to the sea as first suggested.

5—All embassies and legations accredited to the Vatican will move inside the boundaries of the Papal State. Italy will name an ambassador to the Vatican.

6—No customs duties will be exacted, collection of existing duties being left to the present administration.

7—The Vatican agrees to accept money set aside yearly since 1870 which has hitherto been refused.

Progress Is Slow.

The negotiations have been progressing slowly and quietly. It was significant that the Pope made no mention of them in his allocution at yesterday's consistory.

The five popes who have reigned at the Vatican since the church lost its temporal sway over mid-Italy in 1871 have been voluntary prisoners in the Vatican, never leaving church ground. This was in accordance with a vow not to set foot upon the soil of the Italian state.

Under the Italian law of May 31, 1871, the popes lost their secular authority and the territory over which they had ruled was incorporated with the Italian state.

Pope Pius IX occupied the Vatican when this law was enacted. He, as well as the pontiffs who followed him, followed the precedent of never leaving the Vatican grounds.

Under the 1871 law the popes were granted a yearly income of 3,225,000 lire by the Italian state, but it was never claimed.

Paul Wilson, one of the members of the staff, who has been ill, is able to return to his work at the library.

Important Witness In Ranieri Case Is Murdered In Chicago

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Dec. 18—The law and the mafti struggled in death grips in Chicago today.

Flying squadrons of heavily armed detectives swept the city, seeking the slayers of Ole Scully, principal witness against Angelo Pettitti, in the Ranieri kidnaping case, while State's Attorney John A. Swanson and other officials conferred behind heavily guarded doors in a show-down battle against law-violators.

A. Frank Ranieri and has son "Billy," the ten-year-old boy whom it is charged Petitti caused to be kidnapped for ransom several months ago, were under guard of uniformed police while the homes of Judge Robert E. Gentzel, triail judge in the kidnaping case, members of the jury and important state witnesses were guarded by policemen.

Mrs. Samuel Hoffman, wife of the Assistant State's Attorney, who yesterday delivered the opening address of the jury, was fleeing from Chicago with her children in deadly fear of assassination.

Start Tests In Submarine Base

S-4 Is Sunk Again And New Apparatus Attempts To Raise It

DISASTER OCCURRED ABOUT YEAR AGO

(International News Service)

NEW LONDON, Conn., Dec. 18.—Reminiscent of the frantic efforts of a year ago today when rescue crews were laboring to raise the submarine S-4 and its crew of forty men as it rested in the mud at a depth of 55 feet off Provincetown, Mass., men from the submarine tenders Falcon and Chewink shortly before noon today began attempts to raise the submarine from the bottom of Long Island Sound just off Block Island.

The S-4, without a crew, was sunk there yesterday afternoon, for the purpose of experimenting with new rescue and salvage devices designed to avert a disaster such as befell the submarine a year ago.

New types of lifting hooks designed to do away with the necessity of tunnelling under the hull of the ship before it could be raised to pontoons were to be tested.

Experiments at Washington have shown that the new hooks have a lifting capacity of 160 tons more than the weight of the submarine.

Attempts will be made to place the submarine on pontoons and raise it to the surface in such a short space of time that loss of life to anyone trapped on the ship would be virtually impossible.

A northwest wind stirred the waters of the sound into short choppy waves almost identical with those against which divers battled in their fruitless effort to raise the S-4 after its sinking a year ago last Saturday.

Detective Begins Probe Of Mystery In Canton Crimes Today

(International News Service)

CANTON, O., Dec. 18.—Police here today requested Akron authorities to search for Miss Mary Stenger, 28, reported to have been a former friend of Wilbur O. Heldman, 27, who is held under $25,000 bail in the county jail here as a coroner's witness to the death of his wife Margaret, 21, who, he says, killed herself, after confessing to the murder of Vernard Fearn.

The girl is said to have disappeared and police here refused to say why they wished to question her. Other than that she is said to have been friendly with Heldman before his marriage, little is known of her

Ora Slater, crack Cincinnati detective, who arrived here this morning to take over the investigation, spent the morning in questioning several distant relatives of Heldman.

Believe Student Kidnaping Victim

(International News Service)

NEWARK, N. J., Dec. 18.—Fear was expressed Tuesday that Edward Harvath, 17-year-old East Side High school student has been kidnapped by persons interested in litiagation over the state of his father who died about a year ago leaving property in Bethlehem, Pa.

Harvath disappeared from his home according to a story told police by his mother, Mrs. Aranka Plischk, and a stepfather, John Plischk, after leaving a note saying that he had been forced to go away with three men during the night.

Two brothers of Harvath's father are handling the Bethlehem property while the litigation over them continues. There was to have been a hearing in the case in Pennsylvania soon and the missing boy and his sister, Mrs. Margaret Olkowski, Newark, were to have been witnesses.

Darrow Defends Toohey-Brophy In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—Clarence Darrow, the grim war horse of American criminal law, came out of retirement today to make an issue of the trials of Pat Toohey and John Brophy, charged with inciting to riot in a mine disturbance last March at Renton, Pa.

Stooped and clearly showing the weight of his years, Darrow nevertheless loosed a shaft of rhetoric at Billy Sunday, famed evangelist, saying he looked with favor upon "a man sitting in the White House on a keg of beer."

Sunday had warned his hearers here that unless the liquor traffic is suppressed the country would soon go to the wets, and painted a picture of a future President enthroned on a beer keg.

"Heaven hasten the day when his prediction comes true," said Darrow.

The aged lawyer said that efforts to curtail personal liberty are increasing. "I'm glad I'm not going to live so long," he added.

Acclaiming Toohey and Brophy in the same catagory as Patrick Henry and Thomas Jefferson as exponents of personal liberty, Arthur Garfield Hays, liberal writer, who is here to assist Darrow in the Toohey-Brophy fight, seconded Darrow's sentiments.

"We've either got to have too much liberty or too little," Darrow said. "And I'm in favor of having too much."

(International News Service)

SCRANTON, Pa., Dec. 18.—When his clothing caught in a conveyor line at the local storage plant of the Delaware & Hudson railroad at Carbondale today, James Belcher, 38, engineer at the storage, was dragged into the machinery to his death. The body was horribly mangled.

New Mercer-Sharon Highway Opened To All Motor Vehicles

The Sharon-Mercer road, recently constructed and which has been open to light traffic for the past two weeks, is now open to all kinds of traffic, states H. W. Lightner, maintenance superintendent of the Pennsylvania state highway department in this district.

Due to the kindness of the builder, the road was first open to light traffic. The road has now been completely cleared and although all of the burns at the side have not been completed, the road is being used for all kinds of traffic.

Just Among Us Girls

May Cost $12,000 For Golf Course

However, Council Makes Tentative Appropriation For Recreation Center

Members of city council during an informal session Monday during which the budget was considered, made an appropriation for the municipal golf course.

Several thousand dollars already has been spent for salaries as employes have been working for several months.

It was stated that necessary land for five new greens will cost $5,000, and it is believed $7,000, will be needed to operate the course during 1929.

During 1928, an appropriation of $10,000, for parks and playgrounds was made but the 1929 appropriation for parks, playgrounds and golf has been set at $20,000.

In time, it is reported by the men sponsoring the municipal move the course will be self-sustaining.

During the discussion Councilman Reeves said the city should take care of the city first.

"People want recreation" said Tyler who remarked that during two weeks about $35,000 was spent to see football games here.

"Only a few 'Old Fogies' holler about it," the mayor declared.

"When a corporation is looking for a site they want to know recreation facilities" informed Tyler.

The appropriation was made.

We hasten to remark that President-Elect Hoover received a warm welcome in Chile.—The Sioux City Tribune.

Davies Contingent Fund Decreased

No Longer Necessary To Take Four Men's Salary From Contingent Fund

Councilman David O. Davies' "contingent fund", department of fire, "took one on the chin" Tuesday when councilmen tarried with their pencils and endeavored to save every possible cent they could of Mr. Taxpayer's coin. Last year $9,600 was appropriated for the "contingent fund" which means "take it from this fund" when no other fund is provided for what a councilman wants in his department. Of the $9,600 there was $6,600 paid out in salaries of four additional firemen. This fund was cut $3,000 yesterday as the amount of the men's salaries was placed in the regular item. The entire fund was not used, it proved, as $900 remained when it was checked over.

Garbage Appropriation Given $3,000, Slash

Council Does Not Pay Any Attention To Request Of Employes For Raise

Councilmen in informal session at the city clerk's office, city hall yesterday decreased the fund for the collection of garbage, operation, equipment and repairs $3,000. The 1928 appropriation was $36,000. Since the remodeling of the furnace no coal has been required as the furnace burns on its own fuel.

When council went over the appropriation list they did not give heed to the request made by garbage collectors for a salary wage boost of ten cents an hour.

During the year the furnace was remodeled out of the proceeds of a bond issue.

Street Department To Get Sweeper

When solons met yesterday and took up the question of appropriations for the department of streets Councilman Reeves said he would like a sweeper.

Last year money was appropriated but when it was not secured the money was devoted to other city uses.

Yesterday provision was made in the contingent fund for a $6,500 sweeper and also a small truck to be used by the assistant commissioner of streets. It will cost probably about $485.

Plea For Salary Raise Unheeded

Davies And Burns Do Not Believe Boosts Should Be Made By City

Councilman Reeves during council session yesterday informed colleagues that Charles O'Brien, clerk to the street commisisoner, would like to have a raise of ten per cent. He receives $90 a month.

Reeves said that O'Brien had been ill and had been under heavy expense.

Councilman Burns stated that Mrs. Jennie Sankey and Lillian Perry, employes in his department, had been employes for eight and ten years and had not received $200 increase during that time.

He said if other persons got a raise he would ask a raise in their behalf.

Councilman Davies said some of his department employes also wanted a raise.

Councilman Tyler remarked that Acting Superintendent Emery at the disposal plant, on an hourly wage, deserves a raise.

"It is not a matter of sentiment," said Davies. "It is a question of: Are we in a position to raise salaries?"

Someone said Assistant Engineer Hoskins and Kenneth Lutz, also of the engineering department, desired a salary raise.

"We will have to stick, if possible, to the present millage."

"The taxes are slow coming in," said Burns, adding that "we cannot raise salaries and keep around the present millage."

Result—no raises.

Accounts, Finance Amounts Unchanged

Councilman However Threatens To Ask Raise If Others Get It

Not one chance occurred at the council budget meeting Monday in the appropriations for the department of finance and accounts over which Councilman W. T. Burns presided but he threatened to ask for a raise when some councilmen said their subordinates desired raises. Burns told how his clerks had worked in two instances, one eight years and the other ten years, with an increase in each case of about $200 during that time.

No one got a raise so Burns' appropriation stands "as is".

State Health Head Advises Medical Attention For Women

"A recent ship disaster stirred the emotions of the entire country, and the story of the tragedy occupied the front pages of the newspapers for many days. And rightly so. But there are also other less sensational calamities occurring every day. Because they are common they lack those factors essential to publicity, and consequently, for the most part, pass unnoticed by the average person," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, state secretary of health, today.

"For instance, if 16,000 of America's women suddenly died because of some tremendous disaster it would be an unforgettable historical fact. Yet, quietly, day by day, there are so many women in the United States dying as they give life that at the end of 365 days that amazing total of deaths is recorded!

"The great pity of the situation lies in the fact that a large proportion of these sacrifices need not have occurred. The essential requirement in this connection is a realization on the part of the prospective parents that the mother needs the doctor's supervision during the nine months of the expectant period. As a matter of fact, thousands of families never consult a physician until the event is approaching—frequently too late.

"With the physician in charge at the outset, a complete physical examination will be made, regular tests will be demanded and scientific supervision exercised.

"The biological process of reproduction throws a sufficient burden upon womankind without handicapping it with a lack of proper pre-natal care.

"When the individual family realizes the absolute need of professional advice and direction during the expectant period, then the present deplorable sacrifice involved in the perpetuation of the race will noticeably diminish, but not until then."

Cost City More As Extra Firemen Hired

New Truck Now In South Jefferson Street Required Extra Men

Council yesterday increased the appropriation for the payment of city firemen from $69,242 to $74,942.

This was necessary because the city recently acquired a new combination hook, ladder and pump and it required the services of several new firemen.

The truck itself cost approximately $11,200, taken care of in a 1928 appropriation but the increase in salaries amounts to $5,700 annually.

Must Arrange For New Bridge Lights

It is probable that the city will have to arrange for traffic lights in Croton avenue and also at North and Neshannock avenues when the Neshannock creek bridge is built and ready for traffic. Councilman Reeves so informed council yesterday when solons worked on appropriations for 1929.

Battleships are those big things a congressman needs to pacify the navy yard vote in his district.
